'Richest' Cowboy Larry Mahan Ready for Cow Palace Rodeo

By WILL E. THOMAS

Larry Mahan, at 24 the "richest cowboy" and the world's all-around rodeo champion, is headed for his third straight title with $45,000 in purse money already in his pocket this year.

At this weekend's Grand National rodeo in Daly City's Cow Palace, Mahan has every intention of picking up a few more coins to jingle.

Mahan, slightly built king of the new breed of cowboys who have gained mobility through use of the airplane, remembers well his trip to the Palace last year.

He was all-around champion then, too, but for his $150 outlay in entry fees departed from the Bay Area with a sorrowful $250.

This was made more unpalatable when contrasted to his previous year's effort here. Then he won $2500, for the same $150, in bull riding, bareback bronc and saddle bronc events — the three in which he excels.

His $4000 in winnings at Montreal helped him maintain his thrust toward a second straight all-around title.

Mahen became the rodeo world's winningest cowboy last year, when he won over $51,000 in purse money.

To reach for the "all-around" title, a cowboy must compete in two or more events.

The Palace rodeo, starting Friday, will give spectators and cowboys alike five thrilling events: Brahma bull riding, bareback bronc riding, calf roping, steer wrestling and saddle bronc riding.

Mahan is the first cowboy to find success in three of the five events, and he's the first in history to win over $50,000. Former all-around champ Jim Shoulders won just over $43,000 in 1956 and Casey Tibbs passed $40,000 before that.

Right now, Mahan is a few thousand dollars below last year's record-setting sum—but he remains some $10,000 ahead of the pack, still the "hottest" cowboy on the circuit.

Mahan, before the year-long "season" ends in December, will have competed in nearly 90 rodeos this year.

A licensed pilot, he is able to cover more ground, hit more major rodeos as a result. He logged last year some 100,000 miles via plane and auto.

Obviously, "the travelling is brutal," Mahan explains. And that, next to riding them onery critters, is the toughest aspect of his cowboy life.

To Mahan, who weighs but 157 pounds and stands 5-feet, 7½ inches tall, being a cowboy today is a "science." At least, he looks at it that way, and, well, he's the champ.

Mahan explains that after a bucking bronc or fiesty bull consistently throws a rider, the cowboy starts paying attention to his adversary, studies the every habit of the animal.

A rodeo is not without hazards, despite its monetary rewards (for those who are consistently triumphant).

Mahan, as with most cowboys, has had his share of injuries, though he considers himself "real fortunate."

He was out of action last year for two or three weeks with a fractured foot when a bull tossed the champion cowboy, then trampled him.

He's also had jaw and vertebrae fractures.

This year has been another successful one for him.

Mahan considers bull riding the "toughest" and most "challenging" of the three events he's mastered since first getting the rodeo bit habit in Brooks, Ore.

He particularly looks forward to the "more "undesirable" bulls. There's a sense of accomplishment when he rides one successfully, he notes.

He "looks forward to getting on a good bucking horse" as well.

Mahan's slight build has been in his favor, just as it has for some of the smaller riders who have been champions before him.

It's that size, too, he thinks, that has thwarted his achievement in calf roping, which is the

'WORK SLOWDOWN' PLANNED

Jeff Elementary Teachers Reject Pay Increase Offer

Teachers Stand Behind 5 Per Cent Hike Demand

By DON GRIERSON

Teachers in Daly City's Jefferson Elementary School District rejected an administration offer of a 5.2 per cent salary increase Monday, moving closer to a threatened "work slowdown" set to begin at 9 a.m. November 1.

By an overwhelming vote of 379-3, the district's certificated staff moved to stand behind their demand for an "across the board" pay increase of five per cent and a return to the two-to-one ratio between beginning teachers' pay and top scale, a Salary Schedule which would result in an average increase of more than six per cent.

The vote came at a joint meeting of Jefferson Classroom Teachers Association and American Federation of Teachers members after Supt. Frank Greenwood offered a pay schedule ranging from $6,360 to $12,720, and indicated at least four of the district's five trustees had endorsed the offer as a "final proposal."

The pay schedule demanded by teachers ranges from $6,405 to $12,810.

The teachers voted last week to call a "mini-strike" if their demands are not met by November 1. Under the proposal, the teachers would work a "minimum day" as defined by the California Education Code.

The minimum day required by state law consists of 230 minutes or 240 minutes of classroom instruction, depending upon grade.

However, the law stipulates that trustees have the right to determine the work schedule in each district, and JESD board members have indicated they would consider the proposed move as having "the same legal basis as a strike."

Way Cleared For a New Moose Lodge

A variance was granted to the Loyal Order of Moose Lodge No. 26 by the Daly City council on Monday, clearing the way for construction of a $110,000 building on eight lots in the Chester Street area of the city.

The variance—which was passed in a split council vote—had been opposed by the Hillside Homeowners' Association since it was first requested several weeks ago.

Homeowners' spokesman Frank Loretta said he felt the variance would "open the door" to a variety of uses in the residentially zoned neighborhood.

In referring to the recently accepted General Plan of the city, drawn up by planners Livingston and Blayney at a cost of some $105,000, Loretta said, "We might as well throw this (plan) out."

"Are we to assume that all these little dots don't mean anything?" Loretta asked, pointing to the planning map.

"The "dots" indicate proposed high density residential areas within the city. At the present time the site of the an-

A Sniper Attack

D.C. Shootout As Citizens Scramble and Glass Flies

An unprovoked sniper attack on two Housing Authority police ended in a wild shootout in Daly City Monday in which a restaurant waitress and several unidentified customers were forced to scramble from flying glass and bullets.

The incident is under investigation by San Francisco and Daly City police.

It started shortly after 10:30 p.m. as the occupants of a foreign compact car fired on passing special police officers Charles O'Brien and Bill Palmer near Candlestick Park.

The officers turned their patrol car and began pursuing the suspects in a wild chase through Visitacion Valley and across the county line into Daly City.

As the two cars entered Acacia Street, off Geneva Avenue, the suspects stopped and fired several shots at the two officers, who slammed on their brakes and dove for cover just as a round from a .45-caliber automatic shattered the patrol car's windshield.

The patrol car continued to roll, slamming into a parked car, while both sides continued firing at each other.

In all, an estimated 14 shots were exchanged in the duel before the suspects' car sped off and turned a sharp corner at the end of Acacia.

Both O'Brien and Palmer ran to the corner and found Richard E. Brown sprawled on his back in the roadway with a .45-caliber automatic near his right hand. O'Brien kicked the gun away and placed the suspect under arrest.

Police surmise the suspect tumbled out of the car on the sharp corner.

His companions escaped and are still at large, police said today.

Madeline Dunovan, a waitress at the Whizburger drive-in restaurant at 2750 Geneva Avenue, told police she saw the two cars speed into Acacia and shortly thereafter bullets began flying around.

She ducked behind the counter as bullets began smashing into the building, shattering the front window and sending several customers scrambling for cover.

"As far as we know, no one was hit by the bullets during the exchange," a police department spokesman said this morning.

'Entire County Shares Ravenswood Problems'

The problems of Ravenswood High School are the problems of the entire county, according to Human Relations Commissioner Frank Spadarella of Daly City.

Speaking to the press in the wake of his subcommittee's report on problems at the Sequoia High School District school in East Palo Alto, Spadarella compared the problems affecting Ravenswood with those in other parts of the country.

While his five-member committee, appointed two weeks ago to look into conditions at the Ravenswood, agreed that de facto segregation of students was responsible to some extent for these problems, they pointed the finger at the county as a whole for allowing these conditions to exist — and even grow over the past 10 years.

Commissioner (Mrs.) Haryette Rucker agreed that segregation did exist at the school and integration would perhaps better education there, "however, rather than bus black students out of Ravenswood, I would suggest they bus white students in . . ."

She said the school could facilitate up to 1,000 additional students — hopefully white — at the facility.

There had been some talk in recent months about "phasing out" Ravenswood and busing students to other schools in the district.

The segregation at the school, which has an 80-85 per cent black student enrollment was brought about by the isolation of the community, located east of the Bayshore Freeway, Spadarella feels.

The report, which agreed with some students' demands for better educational practices at the school, was unanimously accepted by the 15-member HRC at its Thursday meeting and

San Matean Post-Times Grid Winner

A San Mateo resident is the sixth week's winner in The Times-Post Football Contest.

Raymond Poretti, 1808 Hemlock, won first prize of two tickets to the California-Stanford Big Game by naming 12 of the 15 games correctly and giving the nearest estimate of the net yards made by the 49'ers in their victory over the New York Giants last Sunday. Another contestant, Paul Spugeon of San Mateo also picked 12 winners.

Due to a typographical error in last week's entry blank, the San Jose State-New Mexico contest was ruled out of the judging and all contestants were credited with a win in this game.

Since there was not a cash winner, this week's prize is $150, plus a $50 bonus for being a home delivered subscriber to The Times. Entry blanks will appear in today's Times and Post.

Let's Not Talk About The Weather

Everyone talks about the weather, but no one does anything about it, is an old adage that isn't very popular in Daly City these days.

Especially if you happen to be talking to mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett. And especially if you happen to mention parks. Not just any park, but the proposed park the County Board of Supervisors just appropriated some money for over in Pacifica.

Remarks about this particular park go over like a lead (weather) balloon in Daly City after Pacifica mayor Nick Gust slapped out at mayor Lycett over statements made in a newspaper story concerning purchase of the Maestri property.

According to Lycett, the parks committee he sits on gave San Bruno Mountain first park priority for the North County and the Maestri property wasn't even discussed.

When Lycett first heard the supervisors were purchasing the coastside property for a park site he dashed off a letter to supervisor James V. Fitzgerald — a letter the newspapers quickly picked up and printed.

The letter, uncomplimentary, pointed out if the supervisors continued to ignore recommendations of the committee, the good citizens on the committee were simply wasting their time.

But mayor Gust picked up the ball and threw it back at Lycett, calling the Maestri site the right place for a regional park and San Bruno Mountain a bad place due, primarily, to the fog and wind which constants and bare mountain.

Lycett waid he was stunned to hear that supervisor Bob St. Clair had sided with Pacifica mayor Gust on the park proposal.

"Has St. Clair forgotten the land of his political birth?" Lycett asked.

St. Clair was previously a Daly City councilman and one-time mayor.

At a meeting in City Hall Monday night, mayor Lycett gathered all of his medium height, 200 pound frame and in no uncertain terms informed the audience that what the 280

PACIFICA'S 'EARTHQUAKE'

It Was Only a Drill: But, Oh, the Tremor!

A Ham Radio Man Shakes Up the West

By FRANK LaPIERRE

A simulated earthquake drill was held in Pacifica on Saturday and the shock waves may be felt for some time to come.

Amateur radio operators from four Western states and parts of Canada listened stunned at 8:07 a.m. as an "absolute emergency" alert notified anyone monitoring the network of a devastating quake in the Pacifica area.

So great was the shock wave from the quake (7.8 on the Richter scale) that the Coast Highway had been severed and casualties were mounting by the minute, the Civil Defense radio operator in Pacifica informed the world.

West Coast Amateur Radio network coordinator Sylvan Mayer listened intently at his Burlingame radio station, gathered what information he could concerning the disaster and immediately flashed the news to all networks up and down the coast "called for under our emergency aid program."

As calls flooded in from as far away as Salt Lake City, Utah (main emergency monitor station), and from the Highway Patrol in Los Angeles, asking what they could do to assist Mayer was informed by the San Mateo County Sheriff's Office that the Pacifica "earthquake" was in fact only a test. The scene recalled the panic from Orson Welles' famed radio play "War of the Worlds."

"At no time did the radio operator tell us it was a test — a simulated earthquake. On the contrary, even after he

School Leaders in S.S.F. Hint at Foxridge Appeal

South San Francisco Unified School District officials have asked that they be notified when the city council intends to consider the Foxridge School subdivision proposal, indicating they intend to appeal the planning commission's decision in the matter.

Planning commissioners voted last week to allow the sale of six lots of the Foxridge site, provided five lots are retained for landscaping purposes.

District officials were seeking permission to sell at least eight of the lots "to obtain needed revenue," but residents of the neighborhood and City Planner Daniel Pass entered strong objections.

Commissioners denied the subdivision proposal when it was first submitted several weeks ago, and the council upheld the denial.

The "6-5" arrangement was proposed by an ad hoc committee appointed by the planning commission to resolve the controversy after the school district resubmitted the subdivision map.

Members of the Westborough Homeowners' Improvement Association have led the fight against sale of the lots since it was first proposed, on grounds the land area involved is needed for open space and recreation.

However, the homeowners have agreed to accept the proposed 6-5 compromise arrangement.

Coast Terms Not Extended

Pacifica's City Council Monday night declined to introduce an ordinance that would have extended terms of Personnel Commission members from two to four years.

On the agenda for introduction, it was turned down on a 3-2 vote after Councilman W. Rick Wallis offered the ordinance for introduction.

Wallis, after defeat of the proposed change, declared he "didn't know of any objections, or I would never have introduced it."

The cocncil also:

—Approved a resolution accepting work and giving notice of a completion of improvements for the Linda Mar Trunk Line Sewer project.

—Introduced an ordinance establishing regulations for dedication of land, payment of fees — or both — for park and recreation land in subdivisions.

was asked specifics concerning the quake he maintained it was real by indicating the damage, duration and intensity of the quake," Mayer said.

The radio operator who passed on the alert was identified by his call letters, WB6RAY, an Arnold J. Vavken, of 812 Arguello Boulevard Pacifica.

"I can tell you this, the caller is in for a little rough time . . . he really shook up a lot of people," Mayer said.

The test started out as a public service to try out the Civil Defense mechanism in Pacifica. It apparently worked too well!

In addition to the estimated 150 citizens of that Coastside city taking part in the test, several thousand local radio listeners were startled by the news of the "quake."

"I had no reason to doubt the authenticity of the call," Mayer explained "Although I'm over in Burlingame, I knew Pacifica sat right on top of the San Andreas Fault and it was possible the city did suffer a major earthquake, while surrounding communities were hit less hard."

Mayer said "we're upset about all this" and indicated the method of alerting the radio stations was in violation of existing communications regulation. He anticipated some action would be taken against Vavken.

Contacted by this newspaper, Vavken allowed he did not inform the network it was a test "because we wanted to make this as real as possible."

"I guess were were a little too convincing," Vavken commented.

Only the sheriff's office appeared to know Pacifica was having a civil defense test. Shortly after the alert went out to all listening operators the office called Mayer and informed him it was only a test.

But it was too late, Mayer said. The "absolute emergency" call had already been flashed and calls began pouring in for more information along with offers of assistance.

THE TALL AND SHORT OF IT—"Littlest Cowgirl" Cynthia Nunes, 3, of San Jose, has a bit to grow before matching Maria LoGrande, 10, of Colma.

Colma Girl Tallest Of Little Cowpokes

Pint-sized cowpokes claimed the spotlight at the Cow Palace Saturday as winners were selected in the "Littlest Cowboy" contest, held in connection with the Grand National Rodeo, Horse Show and Livestock Exposition, which begins its ten-day run Friday at the Cow Palace. A Colma girl was tallest.

Youngsters, ages three to 10, turned out in western attire for the contest preceding the twenty-fourth Grand National.

The "Littlest Cowboy or Cowgirl" was Cynthia Nunes, age three, of 480 Cattle Rd., San Jose.

Tallest was Marie LoGrande, age 10, of 908 Foothill Drive, Colma.

Making up the exciting Grand National format of 1968 will be the all-star rodeo, featuring America's top cowboys competing in five spectacular events, the full-classification horse show with its World's Championship Jumper Sweepstakes, and the livestock exposition, highlighted by the exciting auction sales.

The special arena attraction will be Dick Griffith's trick riders, featuring Connie Griffith's daring "Moon Flight" on King Coal.

ticipated Moose Lodge is zoned R-1 (single family residential). However, city planner John Walker explained the area has a proposed R-3 and R-4 (multiple residential) zoning.

Councilman Edward Dennis supported the action and called the proposed lodge an "asset to the community."

"I'm for progress. We must try to get the tax base down . . . and this (lodge) will help," Dennis explained.

He said the site of the lodge is presently overgrown with weeds and harbors a number of run-down homes. Dennis called the area "a disgrace to the city."

A longtime homeowner in the neighborhood said he was worried about the noise the lodge might generate during hours of operation.

"I live about 125 feet from the proposed building — at 572 Abbot Street — and I'm worried about the noise," Louis Caserga informed the five councilmen.

The council, after listening to both sides of the argument for almost an hour, granted the variance by a 4-1 vote, Councilman Micheal DeBernardi cast a "no" vote.

Chamber Importing Suitcases

The San Bruno Chamber of Commerce has made arrangements with the Lufthansa German Airlines to fly in 300 individually styled ladies' cosmetic cases and men's suitcases especially for Friday's second annual "Okotoberfest."

Frank Marchand, chairman of the Chamber's "Oktoberfest" event, noted that the imported cases would be worth more than the price of admission tickets if purchased elsewhere.

The "Oktoberfest" will be held at Mustache's Bavarian Beer and Pizza Parlor in the Pacific Heights Shopping Center from 9 p.m. to 2 p.m.

Karl Friedrich's Bavarian Band will play, and German folk dancers and members of the singing societies are scheduled to entertain during intermissions.

Greatest bargain of the evening will be free German food and beer. Bratwurst, German style sausage, red cabbage and potato salad will be the featured course. The price of admission, $5 a ticket, covers food, refreshments, dancing and entertainment.

The Chamber of Commerce has printed only 300 tickets for the "Oktoberfest." According to manager Larry Mobley, tickets can be obtained at the Chamber office, 540 San Mateo Avenue.

'Richest' Cowboy Set for Rodeo

event he first participated in junior rodeo in Oregon, where his parents had some small acreage outside of Salem.

This year's Cow Paloce Grand National will be watched by the large arenas in the midwest, according to Palace manager George Strathearn, because it's going on without the "names" of the past.

The idea is that a rodeo or horse show (also scheduled at the Cow Palace) is spectator-oriented enough to attract crowds without the television stars seen here in past years.

Other rodeos in the country appear to be pointing this up. For just as Mahan is having a good year, so are rodeos in general, with attendance marks being set throughout the country.

Bruno Civic Service Award

The San Bruno Chamber of Commerce is attempting to attach greater meaning to its awards to those who contribute time and energies toward community betterment.

Larry Mobley, the chamber manager, with the cooperation of the Borba Manufacturing Company, has designed a new plaque that combines in a single seven-inch high award the "new and old" of San Bruno.

The new creation features a mission bell that symbolizes the historic past, and a jet aircraft, typifying the city's present.

D. D. Thomas, the acting chief of the Federal Aviation Administration, this week received the original, from which the Borba Company will make casts for about two dozen more.

The award went to the FAA "in recognition" for assisting with San Bruno's Third Annual Aviation Appreciation Week, held in late April and early May.

The bronze-coated plaque stated as much and the engraving further noted the award came from both the chamber of commerce and the City of San Bruno.

Mobley said he had been working on the new "creation" — as he called it — for "a couple of months," hoping to achieve a "unique" and "more meaningful" award that "would express our appreciation more than a piece of paper to be hung on the wall."

By the time the final product comes out, one slight design might have been made, Mobley explained. He's trying to devise a more streamlined, three-dimensional jet for the award.

It will be the award — described by Mobley as designed to "set on a desk, sort of like but more than just a paperweight" — presented to deserving persons at the chamber's annual installation banquet in January.

Jeff High 'War' Will Continue

By FRANK LaPIERRE

The Jefferson Union High School District Teachers' Association may have won a major battle when the school board ruled to re-establish the Negotiating Committee Oct. 18, but the "war" goes on!

JUHSDTA President Alex Fraser issued a sharp-worded news release that condemned the board and Supt. Edward Morgan for what he considered unjust criticism of the teachers during recent weeks.

"Paternalism, condescendng treatment and demeaning domination of Daly City teachers by some members of their own school board" was charged by Fraser following the action-packed board meeting Monday.

During the meeting, trustees decided to reverse a ruling made last July in which they practically abolished the Negotiating Committee called for in the Winton Act.

A recent opinion issued by Dist Atty. Keith Sorenson's office explained the board's action was out of line with several recent court judgments, and the Jefferson High trustees unanimously moved to wipe out the ruling and again recognize the committee.

Trustee Ray Milton waited until the motion had carried before opening up with a critical barrage against those teachers taking part in the attacks on the board and administration during the tense seesaw battle over the past several weeks.

Supt. Morgan, himself, got his licks in during the "chastise campaign," lashing out at persons responsible for distribution of certain letters and bulletins.

Fraser contained himself during and immediately after the meeting.

He loosed his broadside last night with a public statement that teachers in the district were "shocked by remarks of school officials who blatantly attempted to slap down teachers engaged in fighting for representation rights and pledge to legal negotiating processes."

The JUSDTA president said even after school officials were advised by the District Attorney's Office that they must comply with the negotiating section of the Winton Act, they "decided to take one more crack at the certificated employes by making negative statements judgments about their communications methodology. . . ."

"Our honesty, as well as our intentions, were clearly questioned," Fraser said, adding, "as long as this tone is maintained by district officials, strike and other saction threats will hang over the district."

But Fraser held out hope that negotitions would proceed in an orderly fashion even though informal communications had "completely broken down in the district."

Subjects presently before the negotiating committee include formation of an ethnic study committee; personnel policies on transfer and status of department chairmen; a salary schedule for 1968-69 and long-range salary and fringe benefit policies.

With the decision to once again deal only with the Negotiating Committee another controversy has been touched off — this time with the AFT.

The small, but militant teacher group, had fought with the district for months to bypass the negotiating committee and deal directly with the board and officials.

Their victory in last July was short-lived.

AFT President Julianne Jansen vowed Monday to take the latest board move "to the district (AFT member) teachers."

Two Gunmen Hold Up DC Market

A pair of gunmen held up the Mayfair Market at 2665 Geneva Avenue in Daly City early on saturday and fled on foot with an estimated $65 in cash.

A store clerk said the men entered the supermarket shortly after 6 a.m. and pretended to shop.

As they approached his checkout stand one of the men pulled out a .22 caliber revolver and ordered him to turn around, police said.

The gunman's accomplice — described as a freckled-faced young man of slight build — reached over the counter and grabbed the money from a cash register. Both men fled the area on foot.

Police described the armed suspect as caucasian, 5 ft. 8 in., weighing about 160 pounds, dark blonde short hair and wearing a blue shirt and blue jean pants.

Junior College Bond Drive Is Launched Here

The citizens' committee for junior college bonds launched full-scale operations today with the appointment of 19 division chairmen to organize the northern area precinct campaign for approval of Bond Measure A.

Karney Barberian, northern area chairman, announced the appointments as he officially opened the area office at 98 Westmoor Avenue in Daly City with area coordinator Mrs. R. J. (Marve) Milton.

"Many volunteers have been working very hard to make their neighbors aware of the importance of these bonds," Barberian said. "And we need many more responsible citizens to help approve these funds and maintain our college construction program."

Barberian explained that Bond Measure A funds are "urgently needed to meet an annual enrollment increase of 14 per cent." These funds, he said, are for "construction requirements" and not for any specific instructional programs.

A library and classrooms are planned at Skyline College, scheduled to open next fall in San Bruno, and an automotive technology instructional center and more classrooms at Canada College, which opened last month in Redwood City.

"If voters in this county take the initiative and approve Bond Measure A," Barberian said, "we can get an additional $1.1 million in federal and state funds now just sitting there until we act."

Cost to the average homeowner "is only $1 a year," Barberian said. "For that small amount invested now, we can actually save money. If we don't pass these 20-year bonds, we'll find ourselves paying a much higher short-term tax — our colleges must be maintained. It's up to the voters to decide how."

The new northern area division chairmen are:

Daly City — Mrs. Rochard Powell, Mrs. William George, Mrs. Ronald DeMattei, Mrs. Albert Brawley, Mrs Peter O'Neil; Brisbane — Mrs. Michael Nagy; South San Francisco — Robert Heboltz, Mr. and Mrs. Trython Nichols, Mrs. Kirt Koch; San Bruno — Mrs. Carolhn Livengood, Richard Highsmith, Leon Miller, Stanley Plante, Girvin Whitney, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Koenig; Pacifica — Mrs. Ed Burns, Dave Patterson, Milo Gwosden, Robert L. Coss.

His Birthday

Student Killed Near Daly City

A Santa Clara County student was killed near Daly City early Sunday while driving home after celebrating his twenty-first birthday with his brother.

Highway patrolmen said Donald Richard Pritchard, 21, of Monte Vista, was apparently killed outright in the crash at Skyline Boulevard and Alemany Boulevard.

The driver of the other car, Ronald Frank Harroun, 23-year-old carpenter of 401 Harold Street, Brisbane, remained in critical condition today in Mary's Help Hospital. He suffered severe head injuries and was being treated in the intensive care unit.

Donald Pritchard's brother, Bruce David Pritchard, 2840 Hillsdale Drive, Burlingame, was transferred to Kaiser Hospital in San Francisco with back injuries and multiple bruises.

Patrolmen said Donald Pritchard was attempting a left turn onto Alemany when his sedan was struck broadside by Harroun's northbound car. Pritchard's car was knocked onto its left side and skidded for more than 100 feet.

Church Has Assistant To Pastor

The Broadmoor Presbyterian Church of Daly City welcomed the Rev. Aaron Garnet Miller to its staff last Sunday.

There was a reception held for him and his wife between the 9:30 and 11 o'clock services.

Reverend Miller will be the minister assistant, working part-time in the visitation program of the church.

He has retired from a 10-year pastorate of the Santa Venetia Presbyterian Church in San Rafael.

He formerly was the pastor at Sasalito and in congregations of Northern California and Oregon.

He is a graduate of the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo.

The pastor is the Rev. Herbert C. Tweedie.

The church conducts two Sunday Schools during the two hours of worship services, with infant care provided.

Activities for junior high, high school and college-age youth are held each Sunday evening.

Neighbor's Car Injures Boy, 5

A 5-year-old boy playing on a bridge across a drainage ditch on Old Mission Road in Colma was severely injured on Friday evening when he was struck by a car driven by a neighboring resident, California Highway Patrolmen reported today.

Jack Height, 1681-C Old Mission Road, South San Francisco, was reported conscious but suffering from possible internal injuries at Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City this morning.

SSF Planners Order Sign Down

South San Francisco planning commissioners have ordered all but three of the "perennial signs" in the Westborough planned community removed within ten days, and the remaining three removed within six months "unless construction on new houses is begun."

Acting upon the recommendation of City Planner Daniel Pass, commisisoners issued the order of removal to developer Thomas Callan last week.

According to a recent survey of the West Park neighborhood, the undeveloped lands are advertised by seven billboard signs and 13 smaller signs, Pass said.

"While the signs formerly served a useful purpose, they now advertise a housing development which is dormant," the planners said. "Caesar-Callan Homes, Inc. has not constructed a new house in West Park in nearly two years, yet the signs remain."

Many of the signs are in a "bad state of repair," according to Pass' report.

They also serve as a hazard because they force pedestrian students in the area to "leave the unimproved sidewalk area and compete with cars on Callan Boulevard." When further building activity is undertaken in the subdivision, developers will have an opportunity to apply or new sign permits, according to the commissioners.

D.C. Student Wins Award For Speaking

Westmoor High Junior Dave Martinez has won a Superior Speaker award, for his participation in the Model Congress Speech Contest, hosted by Washington High School September 30.

Dave, vice chairman of the bay section of Future Business Leaders of American Club, member of the Westmoor High Speech Club, and first year speech student under the tutelage of Miss Mary Ann Holden, played a role in one of ten model House of Representatives, encompassing students from Bay area high schools.

Bills set for debate included topics such as military aid to Israel, the Electoral College, commuter tax and control over a policeman's use of his gun. Findings indicated House favor in abolishing the Electoral College in lieu of popular vote, maintaining current employment the national conventions, and opposition to the commuter tax, with final merit and constitutionality left to the courts.

Rivers Found Not Guilty

A Millbrae heavy equipment operator has been acquitted of a charge of arson involving the firebombing of the home of a San Bruno contractor last October 24.

A jury in the courtroom of Superior Judge Melvin E. Cohn found Ronald William Rivers, 27, not guilty after a four-day trial. Rivers was defended by Atty. O. Leland Osborne.

The Crystal Springs Road home of contractor Raymond L. Ferraris sustained minor damage when four bottles of inflammable fluid were thrown against the front. One of the bottles ignited.

90 MPH CHASE

Youth Takes Dad's Car, Flees Police

A 15-year-old San Bruno youth, who took his father's car without permission, led police of three North County cities on a speedy chase early Friday.

Patrolman Paul Esposito first attempted to stop the youngster at San Bruno Avenue and El Camino Real in San Bruno, but the youth wasn't stopped until he reached a residential district in Daly City.

San Bruno Police Sgt. LeRoy Nelson told this story:

Patrolman Esposito at 3 a.m. saw a car parked behind Bayshore Chrysler, on Linden Avenue, the back seat loaded with cardboard boxes of varied size.

Esposito approached the vehicle, but as he did the car pulled away, heading first north on Linden to Jenevein then to El Camino Real, where it proceeded north at an increasing rate of speed.

The officer turned on red light and siren just south of San Bruno Avenue. The car accelerated its speed, failed to stop at a San Bruno Avenue red light and continued north to Sneath Lane.

At speeds up to 70 miles an hour, the car proceeded west on Sneath, then north on Junipero Serra — zooming through South San Francisco at up to 90 miles an hour.

South San Francisco police joined the chase. So did patrolmen from Daly City, who were alerted as the car sped toward that jurisdiction.

The youth averted an Eastmoor Avenue roadblock and the chase continued through several Daly City residential streets west of the Junipero Serra Boulevard.

Pacifica Protests Valley Annexation

Pacifica councilmen have announced their intention to protest formally the planned annexation of Green Valley and other land areas south of the city limits by Half Moon Bay.

In a letter last week to Sherman Coffman, executive officer for the Local Agency Formation Commission in Redwood City, Mayor Nick Gust and council members indicated they will send a formal representative to present the city's position at a public hearing on the proposed annexation October 3.

"The City Council of Pacifica wishes to express concern and protest over the inclusion of Green Valley and certain other territories in the proposed annexation," the letter states.

Pacifica's "sphere of influence" includes Green Valley "because of its isolated nature and separate drainage basin," according to officials in the city.

These factors "set Green Valley apart as an area which could be served as well by Pacifica as by Half Moon Bay," they maintain, and "Pacifica's interests there are equal to those of Half Moon Bay."

Pacifica councilmen, as well as other North County officials, are concerned about the future of the proposed Green Valley dump project, and they have expressed fears the annexation of the area to Half Moon Bay would "unnecessarily close out the possibility of creation of a new disposal site."

Councilmen have indicated they are not proposing that the areas in question be annexed to Pacifica instead of Half Moon Bay, but only that a decision on the matter of which municipality shall claim the territory be postponed to a later date.

Half Moon Bay officials are proposing to annex the area immediately, along with the remainder of the area included in the Cabrillo Unified School District.

S.S.F. Plans Festival For Halloween

A special Halloween Festival of events will be conducted on Saturday, October 26, at Orange Memorial Park in South San Francisco from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The Halloween Festival titled "Spook Sprint" is being sponsored by the South San Francisco Recreation and Park Department, and a host of activities have been planned throughout the day.

D.C. Teachers Set 'Work Slowdown'

for the Bay Section, California Teachers Association, told the teachers Monday the board of trustees "may prescribe what the school day will be and what the teachers' duties will be within reasonable limits, according to the education code.

"In my opinion, if three of you, or fifteen of you, should go ahead with your 'minimum day' proposal, then you would be in trouble. However, if 400 of you proceed with the plan, then it is my opinion that the district is in trouble," the attorney said.

Galiano pointed out that teachers at Ravenswood High School declared a minimum day, and the board of trustees "acceded to their request" for the work schedule.

However, he noted that there is also a possibility the district can obtain a court injunction under regulations pertaining to public employees.

JCTA President Jan Beekman told the teachers "the law is irrelevant now," in her opinion. "Our prime concern is the children. We will walk out because our morale is so low that we cannot teach the children effectively. If we stick together, we will resolve the problem, even if we have to walk out to do it," she said.

Greenwood has indicated the district is investigating the possibility of obtaining an injunction against the teachers, and also has considered other possible measures, such as withholding pay until the end of the school year.

"We can withhold all teacher salaries unless the 175-day year contract is fullfilled," he said.

He also pointed out the board has the option of closing the schools altogether.

Mrs. Beekman and other teacher leaders said they considered the district's salary offer a "face saving" move.

"The pay schedule they are proposing falls short of our request by only 33,000," Mrs. Beekman said.

"They have the money, and could meet the request, but they are holding out in order to save face," she said.

In addition to voting down the superintendent's counter proposal on salaries, teachers endorsed a "solidarity pledge" at the meeting, which was held at Thomas Edison School.

Ravenswood High Is County Problem

forwarded to the County Board of Supervisors.

Spadarella hoped the report would assist in pointing the way towards an understanding of what some of the underlying causes of the strife at Ravenswood — and the surrounding community — was all about and how to counter it.

"The committee feels that more active participation on the part of the community is vital to the successful effort of the school to provide good education for its students," Spadarella explained.

But the present level of hostility between the students and administration cannot produce satisfactory results, it was felt.

"The administration should make the school more relevant and responsive to the community of East Palo Alto," the report pointed out.

One way to meet this goal would be to make Ravenswood's facilities available during and after school hours for community events, such as dances, meetings and cultural programs.

But the end result of what will happen at Ravenswood High School — and other county schools — is in the hands of the district trustees, Spadarella said.

Some Talk On Weather

pound, 6 ft. 5 in., St. Clair did to Daly City "doesn't sit well with me."

"If he (St. Clair) said this, he is no longer in our favor," the mayor menaced.

Gust, in an affront to Lycett over local weather, invited the Daly City mayor to tour the Maestri Property "and if he (Lycett) can find a day that isn't windy or foggy I'd be glad to visit San Bruno Mountain."

"Even though a park on San Bruno Mountain would serve three cities — Brisbane, Daly City and South San Francisco — I guess the weather is so bad we aren't entitled to a park," councilman Frank Pacelli quipped.

Man Is Shot On Street

A San Francisco man was shotgunned while sitting in his pickup truck at the corner of San Diego and Guadalupe Road in Daly City early on Friday, police reported.

Javier Munoz, 23, of 2008 Twenty-third Street, was rushed int surgery at Mary's Help Hospital after the shooting occurred at 4:50 a.m.

Police said Munoz was found lying in the street about a block away from his parked truck after neighborhood residents reported hearing the shotgun blast.

Probation For Fraud

Mrs. Beverly Smith, 35, of San Francisco, has been sentenced to probation in South San Francisco Municipal Court on a charge of welfare fraud.

It was alleged that she failed to report that she was married and that she was sharing her home with an employed man.

A 90-day jail sentence was suspended and Mrs. Smith was placed on probation for 18 months on condition that she repay the county $150 and pay a fine of $125.

Ugly Man Robs Beauty Shop in South S.F.

A very ugly man held up a South San Francisco beauty shop Wednesday afternoon, and escaped with $55 after threatening two cosmetologists and their three clients with a knife.

Police said a man wearing a Hallowe'en "fright mask" entered the Southwood Beauty Center at 621 El Camino Real about 3:45 p.m. and ordered beautician Mary Ann Pardini to hand over the cash register receipts after brandishing a butcher knife with a 12-inch blade.

The man, described as a Caucasian in his mid-twenties, fled the beauty shop on foot after threatening Miss Pardini, the other beautician on duty, and the three customers, two of whom were sitting under hair dryers and one of whom was getting a "comb out" when the robber interrupted.

Coast Gain In Building

Permits for new building totalling $548,125 were issued last month in Pacifica, Chief Building Inspector Philip W. Mayo reported last week.

Of the permits issued, 27 were for construction of new residences, 29 for residential additions and three for commercial additions.

The upward trend in building activity continued in the city, with the September figures bringing total building for the first nine months of the year to $2,402,070, compared to $1,174,007 during the same period in 1967.

Gun in Car Turns Out To Be Toy

A long barelled revolver being waved around in a car parked in front of San Bruno City hall.

A worried citizen. A police chase.

The carful of long-haired young people finally stopped in Millbrae. Officers of both cities surrounding.

The long-barrelled revolver turns out to be a toy.

Simply that, a toy.

Free Parking Stickney's Restaurant Feature

Robert Hoffmeyer, manager of Stickney's San Mateo, would like to remind you that free parking is available to all patrons of Stickney's in the parking lot located directly behind the Fifth Avenue Center. Parking tickets will be validated in the restaurant. Time now for holiday banquet reservations, and Stickney's lower-level banquet facility, which has its own bar and dance floor, will seat 300 persons for any festive occasion . . . A New York Steak for $1.29 and a three-quarter pound Salisbury Steak for $1.09 are two of the more popular menu listings at Tad's in San Carlos. Manager Oscar Germaine also offers Tad's heaping 69 cent Roast Beef Sandwich, the item that made the restaurant famous . . . Wine cocktails are now the "In" thing around the Menlo Park area, and credit should be given to DarDany's for making it so. If you haven't sipped exotic blended drinks made with various wines in the lounge of DarDany's, you're in for a real treat.

Now In The excellence of his maturity, RCA-Victor recording artist Sergio Franchi is captivating audiences in the Nugget's Circus Room in his twice nightly performances. Appearing with Franchi are the five talented Osmond Brothers . . . Why not start making plans now to celebrate Halloween at the Hilton Inn, San Francisco International Airport. You'll enjoy dining at the intimate French Corner restaurant and afterwards dancing to the music of the sensational Brotherly Love at the Hilton Inn's Tiger Room. For a special treat, you can't beat the delicious "Tiger Tamez" and "Tiger Mate," served in special souvenir glasses. And don't forget there's plenty of free parking . . . Tenderizers on the steaks are strickly a no-no at Rudolfo's in Palo Alto. The steak house operated by the Alfinito brothers serves U.S.D.A. Choice beef, orn-fed, and broiled to perfection on charcoal broilers in easy view of diners. Prices are moderate at this family-oriented restaurant, where the checkered table cloths and Italian murals add to the European charm.

Enrico Romano, the Pacifica "pizza king," has been preparing Italian food and pizza of many different varieties for as far back as this Bright Lighter can remember — which puts him in the well-experienced bracket. In case you're one of the very few who have not yet broken bread here, it's high time you got with it. All menu orders are also prepared to go . . . Reservations are now being taken for holiday parties in the Fork 'n' Cork's elegant "Crystal Room." Co-owner Vic Proul also reminds local offices and business concerns that they are equipped to cater almost any type of function . . . Carol Wong, daughter of Professor Larry Wong, one of the owners of the Four Seas, gave a dinner party for a group of friends at Lew Lehr's Steak House in San Francisco's Marina . . . Many people lunching or dining at Doros, the Holiday award-winning restaurant on SF's Montgomery Street, tell owner Don Dianda his food is the finest they've tasted in any restaurant in the U.S.

Nick Gust "On The Double"—Nick's And The Moonraker

Nick Gust is one busy fellow these days! Besides heading his two restaurant-cocktail lounge operations (Nick's and The Moonraker), the mayor of Pacifica also tends to his numerous civic duties, which this week took him to the Southland. However, the public-spirited restaurateur will be back at the helm of his popular Pacifica dining headquarters this weekend.

New Bevy Of 'Lookers' At The Fireside

Had a chat with Phil Maita at the Fireside Lounge, Tuesday eve, while reviewing his new "space show." There's more action at this San Mateo bistro than you'll find in many San Francisco North Beach "flesh establishments." Phil's new array of entertaining femmes are curvy eye-catchers — and well worth a looksee. Stacy O'Hara, Tamera, Lolita and Sam The Man top the show marquee. Entertainment seven nights a week.

New Owners For Pierre's Restaurant

Roast Duckling with Orange Sauce, as served at Pierre's French Cuisine on San Mateo Drive, is strictly "up town." Now under the ownership of Chef Steve, whose culinary talents need no introduction if you've dined at Millbrae's 16 Mile House in the past, Pierre's all-new restaurant policy features complete dinners only from $3. Drop in — you won't be sorry.

Sumptuous Buffet For Big Gathering

Last Sunday evening, Manager Doug Young and his South San Francisco International Inn restaurant staff hosted a large gathering from the Dietary Product Division of American Hospital Supply. Besides setting up a sumptuous buffet for 150 persons, arrangements for a smaller cocktail party were set up.

Audiences in the Villa Hotel lounge are enjoying a rare treat these nights, as the Bob Vickery Trio entertains and plays irresistible sounds for dancing.

Bay Meadows 'Fastest Track in the World'

Colorful Bay Meadows Race Track is now billed as "The Fastest Track in the World," and its president and general manager, Joseph Cohen, is known as "The Miracle Man of Racing." All particulars were well covered by San Mateo Times Sports Writer Garry Niver in Saturday's (October 12) The Weekend section. More copies of the review may be acquired at The Times' office Which brings me to the point: Now that Bay Meadows is "off and running" through December 23 (Post Time: 1 p.m. Monday through Saturday), why not make up a party and enjoy a special day at the races. There are restaurants, bars and closed circuit television for your between-the-races amusement. Special "budget books," with a large admission saving, are available at Fred Krup's Book Store, 132 East Third Avenue, San Mateo, and the B Street Smoke Shop, 207 South B Street, San Mateo. . . .

West's Newest A & W To Open in Daly City

The Home of the World's newest and most modern A&W Drive-In restaurant is about to open at the Northeast corner of Alemany and Lake Merced boulevards in the Westlake section of Daly City. Owned and operated by the Bartels and Blaine organization of Menlo Park, the new unit is the twelfth in the local chain. It is predicted that the Westlake drive-in will become the volume leader of the 2,500 worldwide A&W operations. Reports Supervising Manager Dick Tremaine, featured items on the menu will be creamy rich A&W Draft Root Beer and the delicious Burger Family, which offers an individual size hamburger for each member of the family, Papa, Mama, Baby and Teen. Submarine sandwiches, hot dogs, chili dogs, and golden French fries will also be included on the menu. In addition to A&W Root Beer, orange, cola, and lemon drinks will be served as well as thick milk shakes, floats and freezes. Open seven days a week from 9 a.m. until midnight.

Sil Oliva, bossman of the Exposition Fish Grotto, is recuperating in the hospital after being on the ailing list. It seems the majority of "Who's Who" in San Francisco and way points have called to pay their respects and to wish him a swift recovery.

"A Bucket for Five for $3.75" is the motto at Foster's Original Pancake and Chicken House in San Mateo. The Take-Out includes 14 pieces of Farm-Fried chicken, 10 fluffy biscuits and a pint of gravy. For a hearty luncheon, order Foster's Box Lunch, which tabs at just $1.10.

It's reunion time at Redwood City's Scotty Campbell's! Back on the local restaurant scene are Bud and Theresa Urban and Theresa's charming mother, Helen Trainer, who recently returned from Nippersink Manor, the family's resort in Wisconsin. Already the atmosphere here is filling with holiday enthusiasm. Reservations are suggested if you have party occasions coming up.

Baja Marimba Band?
Tijuana Brass?
No! But our patrons actually compare Los Patojos to both of these famous groups. Instead of being a complete band, they are only four extraordinarily-talented musicians, with a warm and rich inborn feeling for melody. They play a total of 22 different instruments, and if you close your eyes, you're sure to think the music is being produced by a complete orchestra.
They arrived in San Carlos direct from performances in Mexico City, Puerto Vallarta and most recently, Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas. They appear Tuesday through Saturday, with the nightly fiesta starting at 8:30 p.m. Dancing, of course, on our spacious circular dance floor.

Send in your entry in the
FOOTBALL CONTEST
Sponsored by the Times-Post
Entries available every Tuesday and Wednesday in The Times; every Wednesday in The Post

RULES AND REGULATIONS

1. Select the winner of each game by placing an "X" in the box on the margin side of the team you think will win. If you predict the game will end in a tie, place an "X" only in the column headed "Ties" between the two teams. If the game ends in a tie, credit will only be given to contestants who predict the tie.
2. Write the total net yards (rushing and passing) that you think the S.F. 49ers will make in Sunday's game in the box provided. (This estimate will only be used in case of ties between two contestants.)
3. Clip and mail the entry blank to:
FOOTBALL CONTEST
The Post
30 Park Plaza Dr.,
Daly City, Calif. 94015
4. Entries must be postmarked prior to midnight Thursday of this week or delivered to The Times prior to midnight Thursday of this week. The Times is not responsible for entries lost, delayed or destroyed or which fail to reach The Times by 9:30 A.M. on Saturday.
5. To receive the cash prize the winner must pick all 15 games correctly. If the entry does not pick all games right, then the winner will receive 2 tickets to the Big Game, California vs. Stanford on November 16. The previous week's contest cash prize will be added to the next week's contest if it is not distributed to a winner. This cash prize will be given to the winner of the final week's contest if it has not been distributed before. The final week's winner will not need to guess all 15 games to win the cash prize. In case ties cannot be broken between contestants by means of the tie-breaker the prize will be divided equally. (This includes ties between contestants who pick 15 winners.)
6. A bonus of $50 will be given to each cash prize winner (not Big Game ticket winners) who is a home-delivered subscriber to The San Mateo Times or indicates immediate delivery of The Times is wanted. To qualify for this bonus, either of the boxes at the bottom of the entry blank must be checked. In the event two or more subscribers divide the contest cash prize, the bonus prize will be divided in the same manner.
7. Number of entries from one household is limited to fifteen (15) on official entry blanks but only one (1) exact sized facsimile of the official entry blank may be submitted. Submission of more than one facsimile in any one week will render all facsimilies submitted by that contestant void.
8. Entries may be attached to a postcard, mailed in an envelope or delivered by hand to the San Mateo or the Daly City offices of The Times.
9. Anyone may enter the contest except employes of The Times or immediate members of their family.
10. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decisions. All entries become the property of The Times, no answers may be returned. The Times reserves the right to correct any typographical errors in the entry blank which affect the outcome of the contest. Answers to the contest or winners' names will NOT be given out over the phone. Winners will be notified by The Times.

SSF Triumph Sweet Revenge

By JERRY LITTRELL
Post Sports Wrtier

The team that South San Francisco had been waiting one year to play came to Clifford Field Friday and revenge was sweet to the defending North Peninsula League champions.

"We know that other teams have been stacking their defenses waiting for our running game," DeJong said, "so we feel the longer we can throw the better. With Whitfield developing the way he is I feel he is a positive college prospect. He has the size, the speed and he has learned how to hold onto the ball."

With less than two minutes gone in the game the Warriors scored on a two-yard plunge by fullback Jim Olmo. Cap came back to take its only lead of the night when halfback Glenn Cali slid over from the two to make it 7-6.

Last year at this time the Warriors were riding a streak of 28 games without a loss. Capuchino, then the Mid-Peninsula League powerhouse, dashed the Warriors' streak with a 27-20 upset, only SSF's second loss in the past five years. Staving off a final period dash for victory last night the Warriors reversed last year's score by taking a 26-19 verdict.

Capuchino, which had been blanked by Aragon last week 6-0, showed signs of coming out of its offensive slump but the well-rounded Warrior attack, spearheaded on the ground by Lory Bernardini and in the air by quarterback Willie Ergas and end Ashland Whitfield, was too much for the Mustangs to handle.

"Our boys were down a little bit in the first half on defense," admitted Warrior Coach Ray DeJong, "but we put it together after that and I think we played a real strong game."

Donner Wins 100th Match

The College of San Mateo Water Polo team awarded Coach Rich Donner with his 100th victory Friday, as the CSM athletic teams came up victorious on all fronts.

The CSM wetballers registered a 20-6 victory over Chabot College in the Bulldogs' pool for their second straight Golden Gate Conference victory.

The win gave the youthful Donner a 100-38 mark over a six-year span at CSM.

HMB Defeats Terra Nova; Camino Wins

BY JERRY LITTRELL
Post Sports Writer

Westmoor High School's faltering Rams can thank their lucky stars that Jefferson High's quarterback has brittle bones.

Late in the second period of Friday's North Peninsula League game between the two undefeated squads was turning into a rout for the host Indians as they had run up a 19-0 lead over heavily favored Westmoor on the strength of three touchdown passes from Frank Edleman to end Bill Fischer.

But after throwing an interception to the Westmoor secondary, his first and only mistake on the day, Edleman was tackled and fell to the turf with a fractured right leg. Jefferson's offense stalled to a standstill and the Indians had to settle for a 19-19 tie with the desperately pursuing Rams.

In other NPL action, Half Moon Bay downed winless Terra Nova, 13-9, while El Camino blanked Oceana, 20-0.

"Frank has always had trouble with brittle bones," said Jeff mentor Gary Leahy. "His leg buckled and that was that. I'm glad we didn't lose but I certainly don't like not to win. A tie is so frustrating."

Edleman's bombs penetrated the Ram defense with ridiculous ease. The Indians completed just four passes but three, yardages of 13, 20 and 25, went to glue-fingered Fischer. He completed a perfect day by snagging the final pass for a 17-yard gain.

As evidence to Edleman's importance to the Indian attack, Jefferson made no first downs with him out and never had the ball for more than three downs at a time. All in all, Westmoor out-first-downed the Indians, 15-5, but couldn't overcome a lethargic first half performance.

Edleman's injury sparked the Rams in the second half but it was felt that if Edleman had continued not only would the Indians have won, and probably with great ease at that, but the Rams may not have been even able to score. Now, however, he must sit out the rest of the year.

Fired up at the start of the second half the Rams pounded out yardage behind Al Leske's line smashes and screen passes to halfback Bruce Pope.

Leske ran in two scores after intermission from two and one yards and quarterback Joel Carrara engineered a 28-yard last minute drive that gave the Rams the tie. Jim Lewis' attempted PAT run fell short of the goal and both squads ended a fruitless day.

"We can still win the title by downing South City," Westmoor's Pete Matisi noted, "but we will certainly have to play a better game than we did today. I've never seen quite as much enthusiasm and spirit at Jeff as I saw today. They were really up for the game."

El Camino, meanwhile, stopped Oceana's Joe Nuttal, the Sharks' only threat to score, and registered a 20-0 victory behind quarterback Frank Lucia's passing and the running of Mike Tenerowicz and Frank Ingersoll.

Olympics And Frank Walsh

OLYMPICS TIME NEVER ROLLS around when it doesn't remind us of our old friend and mentor, Frank "Bow Tie" Walsh, the promoter who first brought big-time sports to San Francisco when, right after World War II, he began bringing major college basketball teams into the until-then virtually useless Cow Palace, and for whom we worked doing athletic publicity as an undergraduate.

Reason why the Olympics remind us of Walsh is because he was the first American sportsman to warn of a possible impending Russian superiority in the Olympics, which he did after an historic trip to Russia, just before their entry into only their second Olympiad.

The way we learned of Walsh's trip to Russia in 1955 — a virtually unheard of feat in those days when the iron curtain was closed tight — was typical of the way the flamboyant Walsh does things. We called his home (then near San Francisco State College) one morning about a bit of information we wished to clarify which he had given us just a week or so before, and his wife answered the phone and informed us, "Oh, gee, Le, you'll have to call Frank late next month. He left for Russia yesterday."

Walsh returned six weeks later and told national magazines and news services, "Americans might as well be reconciled to the fact that the Russians are going to win in Australia this time, and keep on winning in future games."

He went on to predict that the Russians would whip us in the "unofficial" point score for nations, that they would do it with women athletes, especially in sports such as gymnastics, and even warned that they would be challenging our men in basketball. Walsh was almost letter perfect in his predications.

What will follow this week and next is an abbreviated account of Walsh's unprecidented athletic odyssey through the Soviet Union in 1955.

WALSH'S TRIP to the Soviet Union really began in 1950, when he conceived the idea of taking a team of American basketball players to Russia for a series of exhibition games, with the idea in the back of his mind of an exchange tour.

Walsh certainly wasn't inexperienced in the matter of touring basketball teams. He was, in fact (and still is) probably the world's reigning expert in the field of touring college basketball teams. He practically invented it, and had personally conducted tours and coached collegiate touring teams virtually all over the world.

Taking a team to Russia, however, wasn't like taking a team to, say, Argentina. In those days very few Americans were allowed into Russia for any reason, even including diplomatic mission.

Walsh contacted the Soviet Sports Federation about his proposal, and received in reply a letter from the embassy stating that since there were no basketball teams in Russia at the time, there didn't seem to be much point in further considering the request. The Russians did, however, enigmatically suggest that Walsh send them more details at a future date.

Walsh almost put it out of his mind, and then in 1953, while on a tour of South America, he met the Soviet Ambassador to Argentina at a diplomatic reception. The ambassador had been impressed with Walsh's touring team and suggested that that particular all-star team might be brought to Russia to play a few exhibition games (Russia was now playing basketball).

Walsh informed the ambassador that he would be ready any time Russia would be. Then almost another year went by before Walsh received a letter from the Soviets, asking if he could organize a team to play a series of matches in the areas where the Russians were then busy developing teams for entry into the Soviet Union's second Olympic Games competition.

AN AMERICAN ATHLETIC TEAM had never before entered the Soviet Union, so Walsh had a difficult time convincing the State Department that it could be done without causing an international incident.

Finally, the State Department compromised by suggesting that Walsh first take a tour of Russia by himself to sort of get the lay of the land.

Walsh contacted the Soviet embassy and explained to them what he'd like to do, and they informed him — to his surprise — that anything he felt was proper was all right with them.

He was in possession of a visa 45 minutes after he entered the Soviet embassy in Washington, and this at a time when many Americans wanting to go to Russia were having visas withheld indefinitely.

Walsh had been told that there would be a great deal of interest in any foreigner arriving in the capitol, particularly those invited as sportsmen. The moment Walsh arrived in Moscow he knew that that had been an understatement. Waiting for him was a delegation of sports dignitaries headed by his official host, Alexei Chikin. Walsh was presented with a bouquet of flowers and a large band played the Star Spangled Banner. (More Next Week)

While the Olympics are still on our mind, we must congratulate television station KBHK (Channel 44) for its far-sighted programming. On the night of the opening days of the Olympics, 44's late show was "Charley Chan of the Olympics."

We hadn't realized before this that the Olympics had an inscrutable event.

EASILY ONE of the best college football games we've ever seen was the recent USC-Stanford affair in which USC, outplayed except for you-know-who, edged the Indians, 27-24.

If we could see a college game like that one every week, we'd never want to see the pros. It had everything — offense and defense, breakaway plays, and, of course, O. J. Simpson.

We went away from that game believing that Indian quarterback Jim Plunkett is the best West Coast passer since Craig Morton, and expecting Simpson to suddenly duck into a telephone booth at the 50-yard line and change into his mild-mannered clothes . . . which we're sure Stanford would have enjoyed. The report was before that game that Simpson was hurting, and hadn't practiced all week. If he had been healthy and in condition, he probably could have beaten Apollo 7 into orbit sans rockets.

One oddity. San Francisco's Galileo High probably, year in and year out, has had the weakest city football teams for the past 30 or so years. Yet two of USC's key men are Galileo grads — Simpson, of course, and Al Cowlings, the 6-5, 250-pound defensive tackle who might have a chance at All American if he weren't on the same team as Simpson, who will probably take down all the national honors one team can handle.

TAG ENDS: — The UCLA heirarchy figures South City's Greg Jones is the best runner on the Coast . . . outside, of course, you know who. . . . Now that the NFL and AFL are more or less united, it seems to us they could be able to do away with the type of scheduling which saw recent big games for the 49ers and Raiders both played at home on the same day, same starting time. That was the one where Oakland played — and lost — to San Diego, and San Francisco played — and lost — to Baltimore. . . . And for what it's worth, according to one of our foreign correspondents, "scalping" in Russia is not only technically legal, but condoned. The Commies, ironically, feel that if a man can sell his ticket, it's his private business and he's entitled to anything he can get. If that doesn't smack of capitalism. . . .

Crestmoor '11' Is Swamped By Bearcats of San Mateo

Alonzo Scores Five Times in 54-15 Win

By CHRIS STAVE
Post Sports Writer

Consider San Mateo field as a laboratory, and the San Mateo-Crestmoor game as an experiment in psychological conditioning, with Bearcat mentor Buzz Williams as the evil scientist.

The experiment — every time the Falcons look good, punish them with superior personnel.

It was an unqualified success. San Mateo won 54-15 with Alonzo Emery rushing for a new Mid-Peninsula League record of 348 yards and personally scoring five touchdowns on runs of one, 45, 80, 50 and 66 yards. Emery's sixth TD, an 84-yarder, was called back by one of the Bearcats' 15 penalties, which must be another record of sorts.

Williams was not totally pleased, but shook his head and said, "You can't say the boys played a bad game when they score that many points."

The penalties hurt, though. Four Bearcat flags on one Falcon drive cost San Mateo a Crestmoor touchdown, and turned out to be the Falcons' most effective offensive weapon.

Williams, expansive as a coach should be when his team averages 46 points a game, admitted his team's mistakes. But, he said, "We balance them with offense. You can't beat the personnel. Chester Lax may be the second best runner in the league. The only reason he's playing defense is that Emery's our tailback.

"You take a runner like Emery, who can make a bad play go for long yardage. And I can't take the credit for his 9.7 time in the 100. Or Calvin Swann's strong running, (Swann caught five passes from Wayne Willis and collected 80 yards and two touchdowns)."

Williams also had a pat on the back from senior centerlinebacker Werner Ju ("a tremendous job both ways") and linebacker Bob DeVee, anchors of the defense that held the Falcons to 174 yards.

Emery's rushing record smashed the "old" mark, set one week ago by Burlingame's Hank Sauer against the same Crestmoor team, by 58 yards.

THE POST'S SPORTS

PAL Awards Presented Youngsters in South SF

A contest was held recently by the South San Francisco Police Athletic League among high school students to redesign their Certificates of Appreciation. Pictured here are the winners in the contest Don Collins of Harvest Construction who donated the trophies; Karen Brown, runner-up, Senior at South San Francisco High School; George Gallaher, Sr., first place, senior at South San Francisco High School; Cahty Damonte, Junior at South San Francisco High School, runner-up; Joe Simpson, PAL president and Remi Muyllaert, PAL Booster, vice president.

Also in line with the awarding of these trophies and in recognition of the 10th anniversary of the South San Francisco PAL Mayor Frank Bertucelli has proclaimed October PAL month.

The PAL was organized in 1958 by Sgt. Gus Nicolopulos. The local athletic league's activities, planned to reach every segment of the community, includes baseball, bowling, soccer and firearms safety.

With a decade of growth and additional expenses a third PAL fund raising drive is expedient, according to President Officer Joe Simpson. Expenses include the mailing program, equipment, uniforms, field trips, transportation, trophies, and awards.

To "encourage the raw, young recruits," the PAL soccer program was initiated. Approximately 88 boys are enrolled, according to PAL Past President Officer Stan Bennett. "We don't want to limit the field of participation," he explained. "Boys who lack athletic prowess to pitch baseballs or bat a home run get enthusiastic about kicking, banging and bouncing a soccer ball around."

Morris Slater, the soccer coach, is a professional player. He is assisted by Joe Finnerty and Capt. Derk Zyler of the South San Francisco Fire Department. Zyler's three sons also help with the soccer teams.

Girls are participating in the PAL bowling and hunter safety program. Over 500 boys and girls signed for the Hunter Safety classes, according to PAL Booster Prexy John Morgan. No one hand to be dropped from the program because of lack of cooperation or unruly behavior. "It is obvious that boys and girls respond to discipline properly administered," Lockard declared.

Credit for the success of the Hunter Safety Program was extended to members of the South San Francisco Rod and Gun Club.

Flag Football Is In Its 4th Week

The Daly City Recreation Department's Youth Flag Football Program goes into its fourth week of competitive activity with fast-moving league play being reported from all facilities throughout the city.

The following is a brief summary of action reported from some of the various playgrounds conducting programs.

Ben Franklin School

Ben Franklin's seventh and eighth grade flag football program got off to a good start as over 40 boys signed up and participated in a clinic which included the teaching of basic skills such as passing, blocking, stance, running, and team strategy.

In first round action of the Ben Franklin league Tom McLaughlin's team picked up two impressive wins as they defeated Mark Tauber's team, 8-6 and Jim Martin's team, 21-0. Tauber's team came back to take a 14-2 win from Jim Martin's crew.

Games are played on Saturday mornings beginning at 10 a.m. and new players are welcome any time.

Colma Intermediate School

Team II, captained by Greg Waldren defeated Team I in a thriller, 41-33, behind the outstanding play of Waldern, Greg King, Evan Harper, and Sam Baxter.

Team III rolled over Team IV, 52-32, with fine plays turned in by John Moura, Don Urbanas, Dave Foppiano, Greg Van Aken, and Lou Bizjak.

Westlake Park

The Westlake Park elementary flag football league kicked off its program with the Rams edging the 49ers, 20-14, and the Raiders bombing the Cowboys, 26-6. Outstanding players for the week included John Bologna, Mike Matheson, Kent Currillo and Cam Morton.

Over 50 boys are involved in this program but new players are always welcome.

ADULT 3-MAN HUNCH BASKETBALL

The Recreation Department's Adult three-man hunch basketball league concluded its second round of league play last week with the No Ideas, Sportsmen, and Rams all picking up key victories.

The Rams trimmed the Gators, 40-26, behind the 14-point scoring of Rich Henderson and the 11-point performance of Rick Boyle.

Dan Banford and S. L. Mixon paced the Sportsmen to a 40-27 win over the Invaders, while the 17-point scoring of Norm Angel was good enough to spark the No Ideas to a 40-28 defeat of the Ho Ho's.

CSM Booters Upset CCSF

Coach Stu Carter's College of San Mateo soccer team continues to amaze the experts as the youthful Bulldogs upset City College of San Francisco, 2-1, in a Western JC soccer conference crucial on the latter's turf.

The victory marked the first time in history that CSM has beaten CCSF on its own home grounds.

Carter's crew finished up the first half of the league season with a perfect 4-0 mark and ran their seasonal record to 8-0-1.

Rego Ayala tied it up for the locals right after the second half kickoff and Germano DiLorenzo put CSM in front for good with a goal midway throughthe third quarter.

Sue Livingstone, Larry Fanucchi Exchange Vows

San Mateo will be the first home of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Fanucchi (Sue Livingstone) who were married in a recent ceremony at St. Robert's Catholic Church.

Sue, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl F. Livingstone of San Bruno, carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley, white roses and white carnations.

She was attended by Mrs. Douglas Livingstone, her sister-in-law, as matron of honor, and Lynda Rae, Cathy Chambers, Marie Calia, her cousin, and Nancy Fanucchi, sister of the benedict as bridesmaids. They all wore green chiffon.

Douglas Livingstone, brother of the bride, served as best man for Larry, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fanucchi of Daly City. Guests were seated by Ron Burns, cousin of the benedict, and Frank Ces. Joey Calia carried the rings for his cousin.

The couple received guests at the New Southern Restaurant and departed for a honeymoon in Los Angeles. The new matron wore a navy blue and white dress with a navy blue coat for traveling.

Family Forum

Mr. and Mrs. James Murphy of Daly City have announced the engagement of their daughter, Susan, to Michael McGuirk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland McGuirk of South San Francisco. Susan attended Mercy High School and College of San Mateo. Her fiance studied at South San Francisco High School and is a member of the National Guard Reserve. They will be married in April at the Holy Angels Catholic Church in Daly City.

Greenwood, Ryan to Give Colma Talks

State assmeblyman Leo J. Ryan and Jefferson Elementary School District Superintendent Frank Greenwood will be the speakers at the October 30 meeting of the Colma P-TA.

The meeting will start at 8 p.m., in the multi-use room of the Colma K-6 School, Hillside and Market Streets, Daly City.

Greenwood will discuss in detail legislative activities during the past year and their direct impact on the Jefferson Elementary School District.

Particular emphasis will be laced on the legislature's failure to adopt a finance bill which would relieve the local property taxpayers of their excessive burden.

Ryan will be appearing only once in this area in the immediate future, and public attendance is encouraged.

A question and answer period following the presentation will take place.

Ryan will outline the legislation enacted by the legislation.

Fuchsia Society Meeting Friday

The Pacifica Branch of the America Fuchsia Society will meet October 25, at the Sharp Park School, on Palmetto Avenue.

The meeting will start at 8 p.m. and Chris Christenson will show movies of the August Fuchsia Show.

There also will be slides and movies of other past events.

Good Cooks Meet

Good morning, good cooks.

As you loyal readers know, I belong to a luncheon group that meets once a month. We have lots of happy talk, laughs and good eating. This month it was my turn to entertain the GC's and since everything was a great success, I thought I might pass along the menu and recipes to you good cooks in case you have a luncheon coming due.

LUNCHEON MENU
Ham-Chicken Crescents with
Curry Sauce
Green Beans Supreme
Cranberry Sauce
Lemon-filled Meringues
Coffee and Tea

The recipes for the entree and vegetable came from a cookbook sent me by Pillsbury. The crescents are easy to make and eye appealing too.

HAM-CHICKEN CRESCENTS WITH CURRY SAUCE

1 can Refrigerated Quick Crescent Dinner Rolls
1 cup diced cooked chicken
1 tablespoon mayonnaise
1 tablespoon chopped green pepper
¼ teaspoon salt
8 slices ready-to-eat ham

Unroll the crescent roll dough and separate into eight triangles. Combine the one cup diced chicken, one tablespoon mayonaise, one tablespoon chopped green pepper and the one-fourth teaspoon salt. Place ham slice on each triangle. Top with about one tablespoon chicken mixture. Roll ham slice around chicken so mixture does not run out. Roll each triangle to form crescent. Place on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake 375-degrees for 10 to 15 minutes, until golden brown. Serve with hot Curry Sauce.

CURRY SAUCE

1 cup dairy sour cream
1 tablespoon butter
½ teaspoon curry powder
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Combine the one cup sour cream, one tablespoon butter, one-half teaspoon curry powder, one-fourth teaspoon salt and one-eighth teaspoon pepper in a small saucepan. Heat thoroughly, but do not boil.

These green beans were delicious with the luncheon and would be equally good with dinner.

GREEN BEANS SUPREME

1 cup sliced celery
¼ cup butter
2 (10-ounce) packages frozen green beans
¼ cup toasted diced almonds
¼ teaspoon salt
dash pepper

Saute the one cup celery in the one-fourth cup butter in skillet until the celery is tender. Meanwhile, cook the two packages of beans as directed on package and drain. Add the beans, the one-fourth cup toasted almonds, one-fourth teaspoon salt and pepper to celery in skillet. Toss. Serve immediately.

Dessert is the favorite part of any meal for me. So I am always happy to give special attention to making desserts. The meringue shells are so pretty and so delicious that you will be bursting with pride when you serve them.

The whole recipe calls for 4 eggs. Use the whites in the merigue shells and the yolks in the filling.

FORGOTTEN MERINGUES

4 egg whites
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cream of tarter
1½ cups sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla

Heat oven to 400-degrees.

Beat the four egg whites until foamy. Add the one-fourth teaspoon salt and the one-half teaspoon cream of tarter; beat until stiff but not dry. Add the one and one-half cups sugar, a teaspoon at a time, beating well after each addition. The meringue will be quite stiff. Fold in the one teaspoon vanilla.

Pile meringue on heavy brown paper (paper shopping bags, cut open, work fine) in 8 to 10 mound. Using a spoon and your fingers make a two-inch depression in the center and build up the sides of the meringue to form a shell.

Place in the oven, close the door and turn off the oven. Let stand overnight in the oven.

The recipe calls for eight shells, but I had enough meringue to make ten. The extra two I served with ice cream to my family . . . they were delighted that I had some left-overs from lunch.

LEMON FILLING

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup sugar
½ cup lemon juice
½ cup cold water
1 Tablespoon grated lemon rind
4 egg yolks, beaten
2 cups whipping cream, whipped
8 slices drained mandarin oranges

Combine the one envelope gelatin, one-fourth cup sugar, one-half cup each cold water and lemon juice, one tablespoon grated lemon rind, and the four beaten egg yolks in a saucepan. Place over low heat, stir constantly until gelatin is dissolved and the mixture is slightly thickened. Remove from heat and chill until the mixture mounds slightly when dropped from spoon. Fold into the whipped cream.

Spoon into the meringue shells. Chill overnight. Before serving place a slice of drained mandarin orange on top of filling and slice a green maraschino cherry into small pieces to make a stem and petal for the orange flower.

LOUANNE HEATH'S DATEBOOK

Some Friendly Ghosts

FRIENDLY GHOSTS and other habitues of haunted houses — and fertile imaginations — will be on hand when the Pacifica Auxiliary to the Family Service Agency of San Mateo opens its Spook House during Halloween Week.

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Vera Perrier, members of the Pacifica group and their guests met in the community room of the Pacifica Library to plan the Spook House tours to be held for the benefit of the Family Service Agency's Pacifica office in the Cabrillo Medical Center.

Tours will be held in the Fantasmagorical "abode of apparitions and playful poltergeists" on October 29, 30 and 31 between 4 and 9 p.m. Popcorn and apple cider will be available to those who survive the tour of the old Pacifica home.

Among those assisting with the arrangements are Auxiliary President Althea Moore; Vice President Gladys Hunt; Secretary Sandra Shelly; Treasurer Ginny Silva; honorary member Polly Jones; Parliamentarian and Family Service Agency Board Member Connie Hegedus, members Janice Fulford, Maida Johnston, Andrea Siebert, Karen Woods and Harriet Zimmerman.

Attending planning sessions were Mrs. Zimmerman and Director of Volunteers Mrs. Lois Fuller; representing the Terra Nova High School drama club, Reginald Clodfetter, Shelley Harris and Jack Frydenlund. Special guests at the initial session were Mrs. Ruth Horanczy, Mrs. Charlotte Baker, Gerry Baker and her son, David.

Thus far plans call for David Campbell of the Terra Nova High School drama department to supply the house with 20 malevolent "haunts" to inhabit the eire grave yard, the evil scientist's laboratory, the broodingly sinster Cave of Death and the other assorted "fun spots" on the tour.

JACK PALM of the Pacific Manor Pharmacy has donated the house for the event and local fire and building inspectors will approve the "improvements" prior to the opening of the tour.

Daly City residents may reach the house by going down Skyline to Manor Drive or by coming the Edgemar highway to the first Pacifica exit and then taking the first left turn to cross the highway and reach 137 Manor Drive.

This is the first year that the Family Service Auxiliary has sponsored this event, the proceeds of which are pledged to assist in defraying the ever-increasing cost of maintaining the local agency facility.

Tickets, sold at the door, will cost 30 cents for children and 50 cents for adults.

MRS. INGER WALLIS will be the chairman of the Art Guild of Pacifica Formal Show, currently in the readying stages for its November 15 debute at an invitation only preview-reception.

Assisting Mrs. Wallis with preparations for the show, which will be open to the public on November 16 and 17 in the Pedro Point Firehouse, are Mrs. Sherri Thomas, publicity; Lynn Buchanan, invitations; Hermann Loger and Mrs. Buchanan, posters and signs; Mrs. Roberta Ewald, refreshments; Mrs. Lucy Muir, entry registration. Luther Spraker and Bob Southworth will be in charge of hanging exhibits.

The guild executive board is scheduled to meet on Monday evening at the home of Gina Dianda to discuss the show and future meetings.

ACCORDING TO Mrs. Theodore Martin of the Ignatian Guild, Jack Carney, popular San Francisco radio personality, will emcee the Third Annual Silent Auction and Cocktail Party which will be presented by the Ignation Guild on November 16 in the gymnasium of St. Ignatius.

The planning committee has arranged for the silent auction to be in progress from 4 to 6 p.m., with the public auction set to commence immediately thereafter. Carney will lend his glib and good-natured patter to the task of auctioneer.

Mrs. Martin report that many desirable and interesting items have been secured for the auction and the combination of Carney charm, the enthusiasm of the volunteers, delicious hors d'oeuvres, refreshing cocktails and a congenial atmosphere will ensure an entertaining afternoon.

As is always the case with the Ignatian Guild auction, the public is cordially invited to attend. All proceeds of the auction will be used to benefit the St. Ignatius High School Building fund.

STAGECOAST WEST provides the theme of the sixteenth annual Jewel Ball being presented in the Grand Ball Room of the Fairmont Hotel on November 2 by members of the Auxiliary to the Stanford Children's Convalescent Hospital.

The annual event is a benefit for the Stanford Convalescent Hospital in Palo Alto.

Mrs. Samuel D. Sayad reports that the public is invited to attend the black tie dinner-dance. Mrs. William Griscom (664-9250) will accept calls for reservations.

THE WESTLAKE CATHOLIC WOMEN will follow their remarkable success with the Mercy Ball with a totally different type of event, according to Mrs. Edward Avanzino.

November 6 has been selected as the day to celebrate a Day at the Races. Mrs. Donald Gordon is the chairman of the project and she is being assisted by Mrs. Jack Rose and Mrs. Vincent Baldocchi, the co-chairmen.

The tickets, at $7.50 each, are on sale. The price will include bus transportation to and from Bay Meadows, admission to the grounds, reserved seats and a buffet luncheon.

Frightful Masquerade

Goblins, witches and ghosts will join other masqueraders for a Halloween Party at Wesley Methodist Church October 27.

Beginning at 5 p.m., adults and children will be competing for costume prizes and listening to ghost stoies and those brave enough will visit an eerie "Spook House."

United Methodist Youth, the church youth group, under the direction of Roger Murray is planning the Spook House.

Planning committee for the party includes Mrs. Roger Murray, Mrs. Jesse Mark, and Mrs. Ruth Ellen Stewart.

The Witches' Menu will include Halloween Hot Dogs, Spooks Pie, Scarecrow Salad and Witches' Brew.

Bridge Class In Daly City Has Openings

The Daly City Recreation Department is offering a be- War Memorial Community Center's Upstairs Room at 7:30 p.m.

The first class was held on October 21. However, it isn't too late to enroll.

Using the Goren System, Fred Schweikhart is covering the areas of point count, bidding, response to bids, defensive bidding, opening bids, and play of the cards.

There will be a nominal fee for the remaining seven lessons, or 14 hours of instruction. Anyone who wants to enroll should attend the second class on October 28 or send name, address and phone to the Daly City Recreation Department, 134 Hillside Boulevard. A complete class outline is available.

LSD FILM SHOWING BY P-TA

A timely film on LSD will be shown at the Thomas Edison P-TA meeting November 4, at 7:30 p.m. in the school's multi-use room.

"Beyond LSD" is a film for concerned adults and teenagers.

Guest speaker of the evening will be Dr. Joel Fort, sociologist - criminologist, specializing in public health and psychiatry.

Principal John Belforte invited interested members of the community to attend.

Musical Theory Class To Be Offered in D.C.

Janet Holden, well-known Daly City voice coach, is now conducting a musical theory class, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department, at the War Memorial Community Center from 8-10 p.m.

The class will meet each Tuesday evening with the exception of the first Tuesday of each month.

The teacher holds an Honors and First Class Degree from the Associate London College of Music, and her instructional talents include piano, voice, harmony, and musical theory.

Several of her advanced students have made public appearances in the Bay Area, and Janet appears regularly as the accompanist for the Daly City Community Chorus.

The current theory class is open to all interested persons, regardless of musical talent.

The class will include instruction in the areas of sight reading, rhythm, harmony, and intermediate theory. As an added attraction, special coaching will be given in speech and public presentation.

Contact Janet Holden at 756-8299 for details.

THE IMPORTANCE OF USING WHITE

Decorators and homemakers are becoming increasingly aware of the importance of using white colors. White is not a lack of color, as many people believe it to be; it really has many shades.

There is hardly a home or apartment that does not contain some amount of white, and in many decorating schemes it is actually the dominating color. It is always available to people confused by too many colors. It is the great mixer.

White continues to be more widely used on woods, fabrics and floor coverings with the great advances which have taken place in stain and soil-resistant treatment.

Perhaps the greatest use of white in a room is that it makes a wonderful contrast for dark or bright colors. Colorful furniture, rugs and pictures, for instance are allways enhanced by white walls.

White is also important in uncluttering a home and making rooms look larger. It goes equally well with every style from modern to traditional furnishings.

Whatever your favorite color scheme may be, and whatever furniture or decorating problem you may have, remember that we have helped many others and we can help you too.

Special Marine World Tours Slated

The San Mateo YWCA is holding special tours of Marine World on October 26-30.

A family tour will be held October 26, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The adult tour will be held October 30 at the same time.

Transportation on these tours will be available.

Visit the Ichthyarium and bird sanctuary, see performances by whales, dolphins, sea lions, and a water skiing elephant, enjoy the water ski and boat show, and visit the South Seas Village and Trading Post.

Rates for these tours: Adults $4.50, Teenagers (13 to 17) $2.75, Children (seven to 12) $1.50, and Children (six and under) $1. Transportation on these tours is $1 a person and must be arranged for at least three days before the tour.

The YWCA will begin new classes in Golf, Modeling, and Horseback Riding classes the first week of November. Registration will begin immediately.

New Golf classes begin November 2 at 10 and 11 a.m. The 11 class is already filled, but there are still a few openings at 10.

Classes are limited in number, allowing for semi-private instructions.

Modeling classes will begin November 5 from 6:30 to 9 p.m. Lana Federicao, former Miss San Francisco, will teach this class.

November 6 is the starting date for the adult horseback riding class. Class size is limited. 10 a.m. is the time.

The YWCA Nursery has taken on a new look with new officers, new equipment, and new special program plans.

The Nursery Mothers' Association recently elected these officers for a one-year term:

Chairman, Joyce Amsden; vice chairman, Diane Diamond; secretary, Diane Couley; treasurer, Rina Kelly.

New nursery equipment for both inside and outside play have been installed and the children are having a lot of fun using them. These include a portable aluminum gym set for active outdoor play, a sand box and equipment to go with it, a variety of new wheel toys, and several manipulative toys and games.

The new special program plans include an eye screening for all children enrolled by the Society for Prevention of Blindness on October 22 and 23.

Dorina Kelley is this year's teacher. A few spaces are still open for enrollment. Children from two years old can enroll.

Contact the San Mateo YWCA at 375 South Mayfair, Room 217, in the Westlake Shopping Center, Daly City, for more information.

IN PREPARATION ftr their November 23 rummage sale, members of the Holy Angels Women's Guild are collecting, sorting and polishing usable items, which are being collected at 261 B Street, Colma, near El Camino Real. Co-chairmen Margaret Kerns and Virginia Simon may be contacted for pickup of larger items or for further information. "Helping" the women with pre-sale activities are Jeannie Kerns, Heidi Pleich, Chuck Simon and Maggie Kerns. (Post Photo)

Servicemen To Get Yule Boxes From Sorority

Psi Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met for the second October meeting at the home of Mrs. Danial Castigliano.

Mrs.. Alan Shaw, philantrhopic chairman, collected Christmas boxes packed by the members, to be sent to the servicemen in Vietnam.

The chapter will follow through with letters and other packages during the coming year, working with San Mateo's Adopted Screaming Eagles Committee.

Al Polonsky To Review '2000' Book

Albert Polonsky, city attorney for Daly City, will review the book, "The Year 2000" for the Friends of the Daly City Library at 8 p.m. Thursday.

The meeting, open to the public, will be held in the Coral Room of the library system's Westlake branch on Southgate Avenue.

Polonsky's talk will center on the need for action to chang some dim predictions for the year 2000, according to Dorothy George of the Friends of the Library.

A framework for sepculation on the next 33 years, the book — written by Herman Kahn and Anthony J. Wiener — uses the scientific approach to the study of the future.

Polonsky will attempt to balance some of the predictions with "some bright alternatives," the spokesman for the organization explained.

"You will learn of the many marvelous things modern technology holds in store . . . also how these scientific wonders must be put to use in a humanitaian way," the group's October newsletter pointed out.

Born in San Francisco, Polonsky has livedin Daly City for the past 15 years. He received his law degree from USF.

He is a former member of the Daly City Council and is a past mayor. He has been city attorney since December, 1966.

D.C. Boy Wins a National Coloring Contest Award

When little Leonard R. Schendel, a fouth grade student at Daly City's Thomas Edison School who resides at 101 Higate Drive, turned in his Westlake Shopping Center Back-to-School Coloring Contest booklet last August, he was but one of 35,000 other local youngsters to do so.

But Leonard's coloring book was adjudged one of the best at the local level and he happily accepted one of the 18 merchandise orders for $25 awarded by the shopping center.

By winning one of the Westlake prizes, Leonard's entry was air mailed, along with the other 17 prize entries, to Milart Associates, Inc., a sales promotion firm in Coral Gables, Fla., to be entered in the National Contest.

Today, Leonard is the beaming recipient of a $1,000 United States Savings Bond for having his coloring book judged best in the National Contest for the fourth grade category!

Gene Perry, advertising-promotion direction of Westlake Shopping Center, estimates that some 315,000 booklets from throughout the United States, were entered in the Back-o-School Coloring Contest. Of this number, Perry says, 128 were selected as grade winners by the various participating shopping centers and forwarded to Florida to be entered in national judging.

Leonard's entry proved best for a fourth grader, and when Perry telephoned Mrs. Schendel to inform the surprised mother of her son's accomplishment, her only words were: "Oh, my God!"

Grand National award of a $5,000 Savings Bond was won by Joan M. Nikirk of Los Angeles, who entered through the Ladera Shopping Center. Joan is a fifth grade student.

Other $1,000 U.S. Savings Bond winners were from Minnesota, Indiana, Texas, Illinois, Kentucky and New Mexico.

HAUNTS? — San Bruno Recreation Department is getting its "haunts" ready for action at Haunted House, October 28-30, as can be seen.

Ghosts and Goblins Set For Youngsters in Bruno

The City of San Bruno Recreation Department will again be haunted by returning ghosts from last year's successful haunted house. The recreation center will be haunted for three nights, October 28, 29, and 30, between the hours of 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

When you begin the journey through the dark and erie halls and rooms you will encounter many strange things and spooky people," a spokesman said.

"If you happen to make it to the grave yard you will enter a world of life and death. Around every corner and over every tomb lurks the shadows of death and the spirit of doom. With bodies jumping out of the dark and rising from the graves, your trip will be hair-raising."

At the end of this "Frightful" tour an ugly but pleasant with will be handing out candy for the kiddies. There's a 25-cent donation.

THE DAILY CITY Garden Club has hung its "Garden of the Month" sign at the 297 Skyline Drive home of the Fred C. Birkhofers. Club officers noted the Birkhofers have developed a small yard into a "neat and wel-groomed garden." (Post Photo)

Cub Scout Pack 69 To Induct

New cubs will be inducted into the Pack 69 Friday night.

Fred Plageman is Committee Chairman and Al Baccei is Cub master. Others on the committee: Mrs. Carolyn Burke, Mrs. Gert Vieira, Wesley Becker, Jay Sanchez, Ernie Bloom, Frank Noonan, Gordon Cartwright, Bill Zarubin, Ken Kimball, Don Deschler, Andy Burke, and Ed Mitchell.

Den mothers and assistants are Gert Vieira, Jackie Sevieri, Marilyn Michelson, Catherine Giannoulis, Donna Maquin, Pat Sullivan, Freida Urruitia, Sharon Hossli, Lois Noonan, Frances Ricci, Vickie Zarubin, Jackie Turner, Donna Maurino and Marcia McGuirk. The Webelos leaders: Mike Sugrue, Ron Strayer, Bill Zarubin and Carlos Cornejo.

A Workshop for Writers Is Opened in Daly City

The Daly City Writers' Workshop has resumed its regular sessions at the Westmoor Park Clubhouse, 123 Edgemont Drive, Daly City.

The workshop, open to all, is offered by the Jefferson Union High School District Adult Education Division, and meets weekly on Monday morning from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. under the direction of David Schuman, a San Francisco writer.

Schuman welcomes writers of all degrees of experience, from novice to published author. Members of the class work in all forms of writing, including poetry, drama, short fiction, the novel, and non-fiction.

Last year students sold a variety of work to local and national magazines and to publishing firms.

Anyone interested in enrolling either for the first time or for another year should come to the Westmore Park Clubhouse any Monday at 10 a.m. for registration. Tuition for the fall quarter is $1.

Fifty-Plus Club Hallowe'en Fest

Pacifica's Fifty-Plus Club will hold its annual free Halloween costume party October 20, from 7:45 to 10 p.m. at the Progressive Clubhouse, Coast Highway and Rockaway Beach Avenue.

Dancing to live music and numerous awards are planned.

Meat Loaf in the Round Made Quickly, Touched Up With Mozzarella Cheese

What's new in meat loaves? That's a question that interests most mothers who cook for a family.

We have the answer: Meat Loaf in the Round, an exceptionally good beef mixture packed into a ring mold, turned out on a shallow pan and given a catsup glaze during the baking. Because the meat mixture is baked "in the round," it needs only 40 minutes in the oven.

Then, just to make the loaf extra interesting, slices of mozzarella cheese are arranged over the sides and back it goes into the oven until the cheese melts.

With the tomato-flavor glaze and the mozzarella, this loaf has pizza flavor!

Something else is different about this meat loaf—an envelope of onion soup mix goes into it. We like this addition because it gives excellent flavor and saves chopping or grating onion.

And still another plus. This beef loaf slices well. We think you'll like its compact yet moist texture.

One note about the soft bread crumbs called for in the recipe. Remove the crust from soft slices of bread before dicing very fine to make crumbs. If you use bread from a thinly sliced loaf four to six slices will make the one and a half cups crumbs called for.

BEEF LOAF IN THE ROUND

1 egg
1 envelope (1⅜ ounces) onion soup mix
1½ cups soft bread crumbs
¾ cup milk
1½ pounds ground lean beef
¼ cup catsup
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
Mozzarella cheese, sliced

In a medium mixing bowl, beat the egg just enough to combine yolk and white. Add onion soup mix, bread crumbs and milk. Mix thoroughly; let stand about five minutes. Wtih a fork, mix in the beef.

Oil a ring mold four to six cup size; pack beef mixture into it; turn out onto an oiled shallow baking pan. Bake in a preheated 400-degree oven for 40 minutes, brushing once or twice with catsup mixed with mustard.

Remove loaf from oven; arrange mozzarella over the sides, using four to six slices. Return to the 400-degree oven. Bake until cheese melts—three to five minutes, depending on thickness of cheese.

Slide loaf onto serving plate. Center may be filled with cooked noodles.

Makes six servings.

Casserole Prepared Ahead

You can prepare this casserole well ahead of baking time.

Baked Ham Yam Casserole
Tossed Greens
and Broccoli Salad
Stuffed Ladyfingers Beverage

YAM CASSEROLE

3 pounds (6 large) sweet potatoes
1¾ teaspoons salt
1-3rd cup sugar
1-3rd cup butter
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
½ cup orange juice

Scrub sweet potatoes in cold water. Cook rapidly, in boiling water to cover with one teaspoon salt, until tender. Peel, scraping all pulp from skins, and mash—there should be about five cups. Mix in remaining ¾ teaspoon salt and other ingredients. Turn into a buttered 1½-quart casserole and bake in a preheated 400-degree overn until top begins to brown—about one hour.

Pea Soup Will Lure The 'Seconds'

A bowl of hot and hearty pea soup is the menu for today's lunch. Have plenty on hand because this delicious combination will bring forth calls for "seconds."

Pea Soup Diable
Additional Toasted Thins
Sliced Peaches and Cream
over Crumbled Macaroons
Tea Milk

Pea Soup Diable

1 can (2¼ ounces) deviled ham
1 teaspoon chopped parsley
3 toasted thins
¼ cup chopped onion
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 can (11¼ ounces) condensed green pea soup
½ souv can milk
½ soup can water

Make croutons by combining 1 tablespoon deviled ham with parsley; spread on toasted thins. Place on cookie sheet. Broil 1 to 2 minutes. Meanwhile, cook onion in butter until tender. Blend in soup, milk, water, and remaining ham. Heat; stir often. Pour soup into bowls; top each with a crouton. 3 servings.

Sicilian Marriage Of Recipes

When Rome took Sicily from Carthage in 215 B.C., the Greek influence was strong. In the span of over 2,000 years the two Mediterranean cultures have blended. The island foods reflect the Greco-Roman marriage of tastes and recipes.

Sicilian Beef Sandwiches
Mixed Green Salad
with Italian Dressing
Apple Wedges
Spiced Cocoa

SICILIAN BEEF SANDWICHES

¼ pound fresh mushrooms, quartered
½ cup green pepper strips
½ cup thinly sliced onion
2 large cloves garlic, minced
¼ teaspoon oregano, crushed
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (10¾ ounces) condensed tomato soup
½ cup water
4 servings sliced cooked beef or veal
4 long hard rolls, split and toasted
Grated Parmesan cheese

Brown mushrooms and cook pepper, onion, garlic, and oregano in butter until vegetables are tender. Add soup, water, and beef. Heat; stir now and then. Serve on rolls; garnish with cheese. Four servings.

Potato Major State Crop

A major crop is California is the potato. In fact, California ranks third in the nation in the production of all potatoes and first in the nation in the production of winter and late spring potatoes. In 1966 the crop came to some 1.7 million tons worth $70,542,000 to the state's economy Kern County is the leading California county in potato production.

Chicken Breasts, Seedless Grapes in Casserole

Chicken breasts and seedless green grapes make a lovely dish that's just right for company.

You can prepare this dish in advance, if you like, and reheat the chicken breasts in the sauce. But if you do this, add the grapes during the last few minutes of the reheating.

Another hint about the making: if the chicken breasts have free pieces of fat on the underside, use a kitchen scissors or a sharp knife to cut away the fat before you flour the chicken.

What do you serve with this good dish? Well, the sauce is made from chicken broth and light cream plus a touch of curry powder, so you'll find that rice is a perfect accompaniment. Any green vegetable will be another fine addition, or you can settle for just a salad.

An excellent choice for the salad would be a combination of crisp greens and marinated artichoke hearts. The artichokes come in 6-ounce jars and are dressed with oil, vinegar, salt and spices. The marinade makes a perfect salad dressing, after adding extra olive oil and wine vinegar along with salt and freshly ground pepper, to taste. And another tip: the artichoke hearts come quartered, but they should be halved again so that they mix well with the greens.

CHICKEN BREASTS WITH GRAPE SAUCE

3 whole chicken breasts (from medium size broiler-fryers)
keel bone removed and split in half
2½ tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon white pepper
1 teaspoon paprika
¼ cup butter
1 teaspoon curry powder
1-3rd cup flour
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed chicken broth
1 container (8 ounces) light cream
1½ cups seedless green grapes

Wash chicken and pat dry with paper toweling.

On wax paper, stir together the 2 tablespoons flour, salt, white pepper and paprika. Rub flour mixture into chicken breasts.

In a large skillet, heat the butter. Add chicken and over moderate heat, brown on all sides—about 8 to 10 minutes. Cover and cook over low heat, turning occasionally, until tender—20 to 30 minutes. Remove to a platter and keep warm.

Into skillet drippings, using a wooden spoon and keeping heat low, stir the curry powder and 1-3rd cup flour. Gradually stir in chicken broth, getting up all the drippings and keeping mixture smooth. Add the cream. Stir constantly until thickened and bubbling. Add grapes and reheat gently for a minute or two. Spoon sauce over chicken breasts.

Makes six average servings.

Fish Steak Cooked In A Skillet

THE BRIDE COOKS SUPPER

You may treat a fish steak other than swordfish this way.

Swordfish Steak in Potatoes
Green Peas — Salad Bowl
Lemon Tarts — Beverage

SWORDFISH STEAK

1-pound swordfish steak preferably about 1 inch thick
1 tablespoon flour
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ tespoon white pepper
½ teaspoon paprika
1 to 2 tablespoons butter

With a damp cloth, wipe steak. On wax paper thoroughly stir together flour, salt, pepper and paprika. Place fish in mixture and, with the help of a small spatula, if necessary, coat both sides of fish. Heat butter in skillet and add fish. Fry over moderate heat, turning once or twice with wide spatula, until fish is browned on both sides and flesh flakes easily and is opaque through—10 to 15 minutes depending on thickness. Makes two servings.

Economical Meal In Casserole

Splurge a little, then save a little, and your budget will stand the pace. Tonight's economical meal uses the same oven heat for three foods. Even though the main dish casserole carries a budget price tag, it's sure to become an instant family favorite.

Eggs and Broccoli en Casserole
Glazed Carrots
Toasted Corn Muffin
Citrus Fruit Salad
Coffee Ice Cream Soda

EGGS AND BROCCOLI EN CASSEROLE

1 package (10 ounces) frozen broccoli, cooked and drained
6 hard-cooked eggs, halved lengthwise
2 cans (10¾ ounches each) condensed Cheddar cheese soup
1 cup milk
¼ cup melted butter or margarine
¼ cup water
2 cups herb-seasoned stuffing mix

Arrange broccoli and eggs in shallow baking dish (12x8x2 inches). Stir soup until smooth; gradually blend in milk. Pour over broccoli and eggs. In bowl, combine butter and water; stir in stuffing mix. Sprinkle over casserole. Bake at 400 degrees for 30 minutes or until bubbling. Four to six servings.

Discovered

Legend has it that cheese was discovered thousands of years ago by an Arab who started off on a long journey carrying milk in a pouch made of a sheep's stomach. The enzymes in the sheep's stomach, the heat of the sun and the joggling of the camel turned the milk into the snowy white curd of cheese and the thin liquid we call whey. Actually, historians believe that both butter and cheese were developed shortly after the domestication of the cow — about 9000 B.C.!

San Bruno Asks Priority for Railroad Crossing

By WILL THOMAS

The City of San Bruno will inform the State Public Utilities Commission that it wants to be included on the PUC's statewide priority list improvement of its "dangerous" San Bruno Avenue railroad crossing.

City Councilmen last week made the decision after being assured by the city engineer that to do so would not obligate the city to proceed with an impovement project.

Gerard Vergeer, the city manager, was instructed by the council to enter the city's request for inclusion on the priority list a grade crossing separation project.

The city engineer is to study the varied aspects of the project, including elevated overcrossings depressing sinking of rail lines.

A figure of some $4-million has been used in connection with the proposed separation at the crossing, where there has been one fatality and two property damage mishaps involving trains since 1958.

The costs presumably would be borne by the state (45 percent), the City of San Bruno (45 per cent) and the Southern Pacific Railroad (10 per cent).

The PUC itself has recommended the city allow the project to be placed on the priority list.

A letter the PUC sent to San Bruno in that regard at first ired some municipal officials, in that it urged speedy decision on the part of the City Council in allowing grade separation at the San Bruno Avenue railroad crossing be placed on the PUC priority paper.

One official likened it to "being forced" to approve the priority listing.

San Bruno replied negatively to the same proposal about eight years ago.

The city, municipal leaders explain, does not have the funds to immediately launch into such a big project.

City Manager Vergeer, who had feared that a city request for priority list inclusion would be tantamount to commitment for the project, achknowledges that while the funds are not now available, there "are sources" of revenue.

Vergeer maintains that he should not start a detailed study of revenue, as it relates to an overcrossing, until the City Council decides to proceed with the construction program.

Vergeer notes that if the council approves the project, he'll find the money, though acknowledging some other major capital outlay plans might have to be shelved.

But, there's another infulencing factor being considered.

That's the question of acquiring large parcels of property with relatively new improvements on them, subsequently removing them from the tax roll.

San Bruno Avenue during peak commuter traffic is one of the most congested thoroughfares in the region.

The north-south Southern Pacific line is flanked by two streets — Huntington Avenue and San Mateo Avenue — running in the same direction.

Two police patrolmen direct the bumper-to-bumper traffic, which often backs up to the Bayshore freeway overpass to the east and El Camino Real to the west.

One San Bruno resident appearing at last week's council meeting talked of many "near-accidents" that are not on reports. Rose Urbach of 440 Euclid said grade separation is "vital," and urged "human responsibility" and improvement of the crossing.

Another citizen pointed out that delays will result in increased construction costs.

Councilman George Corey, who had favored priority list inclusion, explained that the project would have cost the city $1.2 million in 1962, according to the Nolte Report, in contrast to an estimated $1.6 million now.

A suggestion from John Bernard of 482 West San Bruno Avenue that consideration be given to depressing the railroad at San Bruno Avenue and other crossings was referred to the city engineer for study.

Bernard noted that rail line undergrounding had been achieved with success "in the east."

Taking an opposite view, calling for elevation of the railroad, was George Lochner of 252 Easton Avenue.

He said this would eliminate all grade crossings, leave property on the tax rolls, allow for continued use of standard guage rails, electrification and rapid transit to the airport.

PG&E Lawsuit

THE SHADOW KNOWS — About that $25,000 lawsuit PG&E has filed against Daly City as a result of the slide on Eastmoor Avenue. Reason for the suit is that extensive damage was done to utility lines in the area and suc action must be brought against a municipality within 100 days after an incident. If the cause of the slide is somebody else's fault, PG&E will oblige by suing them instead. In the latter case the public utility has a year to bring action.

THOSE RAINS HAD OFFICIALS sweating the other day. With repair only partly done on that Eastmoor cave-in, it could set everything back — and maybe even add to the chaos.

THANX TO BOB DAULEY of Westborough, we now know that the Flea Market isn't for fleas, it's for people looking for "previously owned articles," or junk, whichever you prefer. One good thing about fleas, they don't take shopping carts home with them. Or do they??

BLACK BART IN THE RED — Even if the Bay Area Rapid Transit District had that $144 million they don't have, it would be two years after the rest of the system was built before Daly City would get any kind of a station. Disagreement on both sides of the track — Daly City and BARTD — over what type of station design is the reason for the hang-up.

POSTCARD DEPARTMENT — Carding from Kathmandu, Nepal, is CPAL public relations exec Al Kay, who writes: "We shall attempt San Francisco next — because it's there." The interesting part of Kay's trip around the world to the "roof" is this: He flew on seven other airlines, and NOT CPAL. How cum??

SANDBAGGERS ANONYMOUS — Our "Sandbaggers Cup of the Year" goes to D.C. Councilman Micheal DeBernardi, who ventured down to Las Vegas (pronounced Lost Wages) for the Sahara (Hotel) Invitational with Frank (Toto) Spadarella last week and walked off the tough course with Third Prize in the amateur division. Spelled out that's a TV set, a coupla sweaters and other loot. What's even worse, only last month, Mickey won Toto's own invitational at Incline Village.

DAILY CITY POLICE are bracing for another Halloween season. That's when the country's older kids take OFF their masks and show their real selves. Last year, good police work prevented a repetition of the egg throwing battle of the year before — but Chief Petrocchi's force will be on alert again this year.

PAL BOWLING LEAGUE — The Daly City Police Department is preparing for its tenth annual Police Athletic League Benefit Bowling Tournament to be held at Swanson's Westlake Bowl from November 28 through January 5. All proceeds go toward promoting sports for local youngsters. A worthy cause, indeed. Info at 992-4500 extension 232 (End of plug!).

CONGRATS AND ALL THAT — Jeff High District trustee Al Teglia was recently named president of the Italian Catholic Association at their annual meet.

RED-FACED OFFICIALS — A little too much realism on that earthquake drill in Pacifica the other a.m. Expect official action against the "Ham" radio operator who led communications officials on a merry chase across the nation's airwaves because of a single word — "simulated." He didn't use it during the original alert or on subsequent transmissions concerning the Civil Defense drill.

THAT COMPLAINT ABOUT A NORTH COUNTY department store's hiring (and firing) practices is running into the usual snags—those complainin ing are reluctant to talk about it and are dragging their feet.

Editorials

Vote 'Yes' on 1-a

Proposition 1-A on the California ballot for November 5 represents, at long last, a concrete move by the state legislature to give some relief to long overburdened local property taxpayers. To an extent it is a fulfillment of promises made by legislators of both parties. It is also an effort to counter Propoistion 9 on the same ballot. The two measures are in conflict and if both are approved only the one receiving the higher vote will take effect.

Proposition 9, to be discussed later editorially, is likewise a property tax relief measure, but one which could seriously endanger the entire tax structure of the state, adversely affect the public schools, and ultimately cost the ordinary taxpayer much more in state taxes than would be saved on local property taxes.

Proposition 1-a, however, will finance local property tax savings totally from existing state revenue and local governments will suffer no loss in funds. No new taxes will be needed to pay the costs of the property tax reductions.

If voted, here is what Proposition 1-a will do:

It will bring property tax relief now! For the current fiscal year of 1968-69 each homeowner will get a direct cash payment of $70 for property tax relief.

In each succeeding year each home-owner will get an exemption of $750 in assessed value from property taxes on his home.

Tenants who pay local property tax in a proportion of their rent are not forgotten. Their state income tax exemptions will be doubled, for single persons from $500 to $1,000, and for married persons from $1,000 to $2,000.

Additionally, the property tax on household belongings will be eliminated and businessmen will receive a 15 per cent reduction in business inventory taxes.

In contrast with Proposition 9, Proposition 1-A is a fiscally sound and practical method of tax reduction that channels the relief where it is intended to go — to homeowners and renters. Proposition 1-a is by far the best measure and poses no threats to California's financial stability.

The Post recommends a "Yes" vote on Proposition 1-a and emphasizes that such a "Yes" vote, to be operative, urgently requires a corresponding "No" vote on Proposition 9.

Vote "Yes" on 1-a and "No' on 9.

(Daly City Librarian)

About Proposition 9

THE CALIFORNIA ELECTION EXTRA from the League of Women Voters of California may be obtained from most public libraries.

The producers of that paper saked each candidate for United States senator to answer four questions:

1. What changes, if any, would you advocate in federal policies to solve the problems of the cities?

2. What changes, if any, would you advocate in U.S. policy toward Southeast Asia?

3. How do you propose to meet the demands of the federal budget?

4. What is the responsibility of the U.S. government in solving problems of air and water pollution?

The articles that appear on the first page contain the answer.

The "California Election Extra," takes each of the statewide propositions and gives the situation, the proposal, the question, and the arguments for each.

AS AN EXAMPLE consider the discussion for the very farr-eaching Proposition 9:

1. The Situation
2. Arguments against the measure
3. Arguments for the measure

THE SITUATION:

In California, property taxes are used by local governments, school districts, and special districts to provide funds for property-related services, such as police, fire protection, sanitation, water; and people-related services, such as education and welfare. At the present time, there is no percentage limitation on the total amount of the property tax although many taxing districts each have individual limits.

THE PRESENT STATEWIDE average of property taxes is about two per cent of market value. Owner-occupied single residences account for approximately 30 per cent of the total property tax revenue; about 16 per cent comes from non-owner-occupied residences (both single and multiple); about 41 per cent comes from business and agriculture; and the remaining 13 per cent is from railroads and public utilities.

Individual taxing districts are limited by state law in the amount of money they may borrow by issuing bonds, but there is at present no overall limit on the combined bonded indebtedness that must be paid for by property taxes in any one district.

ARGUMENTS AGAINST THE MEASURE:

1. The resulting increases in other taxes would more than offset this property tax reduction, and would hit hardest those least able to pay. Business and large landowners would benefit more than the small home-owner.

2. Since the property owner has more at stake in the community, it is only right that he should pay more for those things which increase the value of the community as a whole, such as education and welfare.

3. This measure takes away local control because it removes the possibility of a tax override, even ff the local electorate should want it; and, by forcing the State to pay for education, it gives control of schools to the State instead of leaving control with the local community.

4. The wording is so ambiguous that the proposed bond limitation could impair the ability of local governments to finance needed capital projects, and might even delay completion of present development projects, such as the State Water Plan.

ARGUMENTS FOR THE MEASURE:

1. The property taxes would be lowered an average of 50 per cent and the small home-owner would benefit.

2. Property taxes should be used only for those expenses which relate to and benefit the property; property owners should not be forced to pay a larger portion of educational and welfare costs than other people.

3. This measure would force much-needed tax reform.

4. The property tax payer will receive some immediate relief, while the Legislature is given five years to make fiscal adjustments.

Aggressive Expression!

Many parents have suspected it for some time. Now a psychologist has confirmed that children viewing violence on television or in the movies tend to adopt a more aggressive attitude.

Albert Bandura, a Stanford University professor of psychology, testified before the National Committee on the Causes and Prevention of Violence that experiments be conducted indicate television violence increases and probability that viewers may engage in violent behavior.

Bandura described to the investigators the results of his experiment, in which he showed a group of boys a film of a fist fight staged by a drama group.

Those who viewed the violent film "exhibited far more aggressive behaviour against a person who previously had angered them than did a similar group of boys who had been exposed only to a nonviolent film."

Television is not the only culprit creating a climate of violence, although it is one of the more influential ones. Violent behavior is a learned response, and today there are many teachers at work in the world.

'Yes' on 5

Proposition 5 on November's state ballot is one on which the voter can safely vote "Yes." It should not cost the taxpayers any money and there is every likelihood that it may even result in some appreciable saving of tax funds.

It is a simple legislative constitutional proposal under which the legislature would insure or guarantee loans to nonprofit corporations and public agencies for construction, improvement or repair of any public or nonprofit hospital, hospital facility, extended care facility, or facility for the treatment of mental illness. It would also provide original equipment for such facilities.

If approved, it will permit the legislature to enact enabling legislation which will require that the loans be self-liquidating through the establishment of adequate loan fees, and will restrict the guarantees to properly planned hospital projects in areas of need as determined by the State Hospital Advistry Council.

Philanthropy, the historical source of hospital assistance, can no longer meet the need and money under the overstrained state program is difficult to obtain. By pledging state credit, however, loans can be procured to match available federal funds. It has been estimated that this procedure can save the taxpayers $20 million per year.

The proposition is fair and secure. It is in the interests of the public in general.

Vote "Yes" on Proposition 5.

We Support Rafferty

An extraordinary thing happens almost every time Republican Senatorial Candidate Dr. Max Rafferty addresses an audience. He changes the minds of a great many of those in the audience who previously were bitterly opposed to him. This is what all candidates try to do, but few can equal Rafferty's success.

He gets this result because he speaks with sincerity and with unequivocating common sense. He is forceful and he minces no words in making his conservative opinions very clear.

Many who came to scoff remain to cheer.

They may not be in total agreement with him, but they are willing to concede that he has "levelled" with them in stating the issues and his position on each issue.

By the time Dr. Rafferty has finished a speech, a large proportion of his listeners are struck by the thought that the United States Senate is badly in need of outspoken men of his calibre and ability. It has been a long time since California has sent such a man to the Senate.

Rafferty's brand of conservative Americanism may irk liberals, but it rings true. His uncompromising position on law and order represents his idea of the kind of strength needed to restore and preserve a law-abiding nation. His respect for the taxpayers' dollars is strongly akin to the respect every citizen has for his own money — he does not want it wasted or used against him.

Voters who have had difficulty in making up their minds on a senatorial choice face one incontrovertible fact: If they are going to vote for a change in the national administration, they need to elect a senator who will support that new administration. In the coming election, only one candidate could be expected to do that — Max Rafferty.

Vote for Max Rafferty for United States senator.

Credit 'Advisors'

QUESTION: What do Credit Advisory Services consist of?

ANSWER: These services are legal operations which ehlp relieve over-extended debtors of a little more of their cash. The credit advisory service will explore the possibility of getting a person a loan for a fee. They make no guarantees and no promises. The fee you pay is paid in advance and is not refundable if you do not receive the loan.

QUESTION: You wrote some time ago in your column that the Federal Trade Commission had ruled that Geritol had to change their advertising saying that "tired run-down feeling" was caused by "iron-poor blood". I still see this commercial on TV.

ANSWER: The company is under a court order to change the wording of its advertising but it can still ask for a rehearing or an appeal to the Supreme Court. As the commercials say, many of the customers have "felt stronger after taking Geritol". Whether this is due to the seven vitamins, the iron or the 12 per cent alcohol is hard to determine. that the real deficiency of iron "is almost The Federal Trade Commission points out invariably due to some serious disease or disorder." According to the FTC complaint, use of Geritol may mask the signs and symptoms of such ailments and thus allow them to get worse without a person realizing it. If you feel your run-down condition may be due to illness, See Your Doctor.

QUESTION: How can I stop receiving contest consolation prizes by mail? I have accepted so many "free gifts" I have practically bankrupted my family.

ANSWER: Maybe you will realize, now that you have "practically bankrupted your family," that you seldom ever get anything for nothing. Do not drop your name in a box, enter a contest or register at a trade show.

QUESTION: What is the difference between "irregulars" and "seconds" in hosiery?

ANSWER: The hosiery industry considers "irregulars" as those having minor imperfections in dimension, size, colors or knit and without obvious mends, runs, etc. "Seconds" denote runs, mends and substantial imperfections or defects.

DUTY TOUR

PHU LOI, VIETNAM — Army Private First Class David R. Doran, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Doran, 130 Springwood Way, South San Francisco, voluntarily extended his tour of duty in Vietnam, September 7, for an extra two months while serving with the 34th Engineer Battalion near Phu Loi, Vietnam.

A mechanic in the battalion's Company A, Pvt. Doran entered on active duty in November 1967, completed basic training at Ft. Lewis, Wash., and was stationed at Ft. Belvoir, Va., prior to his arrival in Vietnam last April.

A 1965 graduate of South San Francisco High School, Pvt. Doran attended College of San Mateo.

TOP ACHIEVEMENT

U.S. AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. — Cadet Timothy G. Herbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Herbert of 739 Thornhill Drive, Colma, is one of more than 775 cadets who have entered their junior year at the U.S. Air Force Academy.

As he began his third year at the academy, Cadet Herbert was named to the Dean's List for his outstanding academic achievement. He will be granted special privileges and wear a silver star insignia recognizing the honor accorded him by the academy dean.

Cadet Herbert will serve during the fall term as an element sergeant with the rank of cadet technical sergeant. He was selected for the position because of his demonstrated leadership abilities and effectiveness ratings.

During the past summer, Cadet Herbert served as an instructor in a rigorous basic training course for members of the academy's incoming freshman class. The training prepares basic cadets for entry into the cadet wing. He also completed three weeks of special duty at Vandenberg AFB, Calif., in Operation "Third Lieutenant," a program which gives cadets a first hand look at Air Force operations and provides them an opportunity to perform as junior officers.

He will be commissioned a second lieutenant and receive his B.S. degree upon graduation from the academy.

The cadet is a 1966 graduate of Westmoor High School, Daly City.

LESTER Robert Lessa, Jr., of 11 Oakmont Drive, Daly City, a Westmoor graduate of 1968, has completed U.S. Navy training at San Diego and has been assigned as an engineman aboard the aircraft carrier USS Valley Forge. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Lessa.

SENIOR CADET

U.S. AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. — Cadet Robert D. Hurley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bertram J. Hurley Sr., 7301 Mission St., Daly City, is one of more than 700 cadets who have entered their senior year at the U.S. Air Force Academy.

Cadet Hurley will serve during the fall term as a squadron project officer with the rank of cadet second lieutenant. He was selected for the position because of his demonstrated leadership abilities and effectiveness ratings.

During the past summer, the cadet held an officer position as a supervisor in the academy air base security indoctrination and training program for underclassmen.

He was also a member of the smaller group of senior students who were selected to help conduct the academy cadet combat course in infantry weapons at nearby Ft. Carson, Colo.

The cadet then participated in the three-week academy "Third Lieutenant" program. He went to U-Tapao Airfield, Thailand where he observed applied Air Force operations and gained practical experience while performing Air Force junior officer duty.

Cadet Hurley will be commissioned a second lieutenant and receive his B.S. degree upon graduation from the adademy.

He is a 1963 graduate of George Washington High School.

TECH TRAINING

SAN ANTONIO — Airman Michael F. Farrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett F. Farrell of 1164 Palou Drive, Pacifica, Calif., has completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex. He has been assigned to the Air Force Technical Training Center at Sheppard AFB, Tex., for specialized schooling as an aircraft maintenance specialist. Airman Farrell is a 1968 graduate of Terra Nova High School.

TECH SCHOOL

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. — Airman Mitchell Mann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Mann of 693 Clarinada Avenue, Daly City, has been graduated from a U.S. Air Force technical school at Sheppard AFB, Tex.

He was trained as a communications specialist and has been assigned to a unit of the Air Force Communications Service at Edwards AFB, Calif.

The airman is a graduate of Westmoor High School and attended San Mateo Junior College.

TOP UNIT AWARD

U.S. AIR FORCES, Thailand — Airman First Class Richard O. Lopez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel E. Lopez of 42 Westmont Dr., Daly City, is a member of the 3rd Air Division that has earned the U.S. Air Force Outstanding Unit Award.

Airman Lopez, an aircraft mechanic assigned at U-Tapao Airfield, Thailand, will wear the distinctive service ribbon to mark his affiliation with the unit.

The sergeant is a 1964 graduate of Riordan High School, San Francisco.

THERE IS NO substitute for experience, especially when it comes to money matters. Pretty Mary A. Mitchell, a bank teller, won this color television in the First National Bank of Daly City-South San Francisco Branch's "guess the amount of money in the fishbowl" contest. Miss Mitchell, who is an employee at the South San Francisco branch of the Bank of America, guessed within five cents of the exact amount in the fishbowl. Presenting the television was a smiling Mike Wyman, manager of the new First National Bank on Airport Boulevard. (Post Photo)

San Bruno Man Falls to Death

The body of a San Bruno man who apprently jumped from the roof of the Canyon Hospital west of Redwood City was found in a courtyard behind the hospital's boiler room last Wednesday.

Coroner's Investigator Robert Cawley said the victim, Russell Rodger Burke, 55, of 769 Cypress Street, letf a note indicating he was despondent over ill helath. He had been admitted to the hospital September 26 with tuberculosis, Cawley reported.

Cawley stated that Burke, who was a postal inspector at San Francisco International Airport, apparently climbed a ladder to the roof from a second floor terrace sometime early Monday night and jumped. He was missed at 9 p.m. and the broken watch on his wrist was stopped at 10:29.

Requiem mass was celebrated at 9:30 a.m. Friday at St. Robert's Church. Interment was at Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

Survivors include his wife Prena; one son, Tim, and a daughter, Karen, San Bruno; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Burke, San Francisco; a brother, William, San Francisco; and two sisters, Mrs. Eugena Myers, N.J., and Mrs. Nancy Ann Kaplan, San Francisco.

U.N. Day Is Proclaimed In San Bruno

Mayor George Ingham last week proclaimed October 24 as United Nations Day in San Bruno.

The proclamation was issued early in the council meeting, with one letter of objection being read under a separate agenda category later.

Carolyn Coppock of 2920 Oakmont, San Bruno, noting she had learned for a UN Day request through a League of Women Voters' bulletin, wrote that she was "strongly opposed to such an honor being given to the United Nations at this time."

She explained, "I feel it would be hypocrisy to give any special honor to this organization until their actions deserve it."

The council, in another item of business, approved an exchange deed with the City and County of San Francisco, involving granting of a 39-foot wide by 6590.85-foot long water line easement on Sneath Lane.

In return, the City of San Bruno will receive property that makes up the entrance from Sneath Lane into naval property.

Councilmen, at the urging of colleague Maurice Hamilton, went on record as opposing Proposition 9 and favoring Proposition 1-A on the November ballot.

Both propositions relate to property tax relief but 1-A is a state-initiated proposal generally receiving favorable response from municipalities and school districts.

SSF Office For Group On Aging

The State Committee on Aging set up an office in South San Francisco recently in the senior citizen club lounge, located in the Park and Recreation Building at the corner of Grand and Magnolia Avenues.

This office is to be officially called "Information, Referral and Counselling Service for Senior Californians." It will serve senior citizens of South San Francisco, San Bruno, Daly City, Millbrae and all surrounding area.

Mrs. Fern E. Patrick will be the Community Representative. She will be in the office Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays from 9:30 a.m.-2:30 p.m.

The purpose of the office will be to assist senior citizens with housing problems; finding suitable full time and part time jobs and also to assist them in finding help when they might need it.

Counseling and referral service will also be provided to assist the senior citizen in solving problems and situations that might arise, according to Mrs. Patrick.

Employers and businesses in this area, with part time and full time employment and property owners who have vacancies in medium and low-priced apartments and houses are requested to contact the local Information Referral and Counselling Service.

Slocum Is Write-in Candidate

Will Slocum, former jockey and recent aspirant in the highly contested Eleventh Congressional District election, today announced that he is a formal write-in candidate in the twenty-seventh Assembly district election November 5.

Slocum enters his candidacy against Leo Ryan, who has already secured both the Republican and Democrat nominations and has been running unopposed.

Slocum paid his $160 filing fee October 21, to the office of County Clerk John A. Bruning.

His declaration states that it is with the understanding that if any votes are written in as "Will," "Wee Willie" or "Slocum" or any other such designation, "that the Elections Dept. could conscientiously determine" that they be intended to be a vote for "Will Slocum," and so counted and recorded.

Slocum is running as independent. He has been registered as a Democrat.

"People who are unhappy with our present political structure will now have an opportunity to express their dissent. I am running as a means to that end."

With no opposition candidate, the people have been unable to gain a fair representation of the issues," he said.

"How do we know which Ryan will be elected?" He questions. "Will it be the Republican Ryan or the Democrat Ryan?"

"However," he said, "I am not running against Ryan, so much as I am running against the Status Quo."

D.C. Police Recover Marijuana

Daly City police recovered over 6½ pounds of marijuana Wednesday, but there was no arrest.

Patrolman Wendell Barnes was cruising on Bellevue Street at 10:54 p.m. when he spotted a man he thought matched the description of a suspect in the armed robbery of the Mission Drive-in theater an hour earlier.

Barnes turned his car around — an action that prompted the suspect to drop a paper bag he was carrying, jump over a nearby fence and disappear into the darkness.

The patrolman picked up the paper sack from the lawn in front of 217 Bellevue. In the bag were three kilos of marijuana.

A police department spokesman recalled the "grass" recovery as the largest local police have made without an arrest.

The drive-in movie theatre had been robbed by two Negro males at 9:18 p.m. The pair fled after taking an undetermined amount of cash. They jumped a fence and headed toward Bellevue, according to the police.

The robbers were described as being of medium build, both standing about six-feet tall and wearing black sweaters and grey trousers.

Write-in Foe To Contest Leo Ryan

A 21-year-old resident of Daly City, a cerebral palsy victim at birth, who now operates a newsstand in downtown San Francisco, has announced his candidacy as a write-in opponent of Assemblyman Leo Ryan in the Twenty-seventh District of San Mateo County.

He is Stephen R. Luzadder, who lives at 165 Alexander Avenue, Daly City. He describes himself as a political independent.

Young Luzadder, a San Francisco native, graduated from Balboa High School and later attended City College for two years, where he majored in political science.

In announcing his decision to campaign for the Lower House of the State Legislature, Luzadder said, "My varied ideas, some of them liberal, some conservative, stamp me, I believe, as strictly an individualistic campaigner. In seeking good government, I won't be hemmed in and confined by the limitations that hamper those who exclusively advocate the policies of one party or another. My platform will be to take an objective stand on each issue based on individual merit."

The candidate's diversity of thought is indicated by his liberal advocation of complete open or integrated housing, and the complete integration of labor unions.

He also believes in the total integration of schools on all levels — students — instructors and administrators.

In a more conservative vein, Luzadder believes that both students and professors who participate in college demonstrations should be expelled. Instead, the youthful write-in candidate feels that the college classrooms, not the campuses, should be utilized for the airing of both right and left-wing views.

Colma Boy Hit on Bike, Badly Hurt

An 11-year-old Colma boy was hit and seriously injured as he rode his small bicycle along East Market Street in Daly City shortly after 5 p.m. last Tuesday.

Rolando Hernandez, of 698 Lisbon Street, Colma, suffered a broken right leg and head injuries in the accident. He was in the children's intensive care unit at Mary's Help Hospital this morning.

Hernandez was riding his bike near the corner of East Market and Third Avenue in Colma when a car driven by Donald Vercelli, 39, of 271 Merced Avenue, San Bruno, turned a corner and slammed into the bike, police said.

The force of the crash tore the front wheel off the child's bike and sent him sprawling in a pool of blood on the busy roadway.

Pacifica UN-Day Is Proclaimed

Mayor Nick Gust Monday night proclaimed October 24 as "United Nations Day" in the coastside community of Pacifica.

DENTAL HEALTH FACTS

Brush After Meals

Brushing after meals not only helps to remove food particles from which decay acids are formed, but also helps to remove the bacteria that are responsible for producing the acid. So get in the habit of brushing after every meal.

Brush Thoroughly

Even if you brush after every meal, success in preventing decay won't be achieved unless you brush thoroughly. Use a good toothbrush that is in good condition.

Please ask your dentist about proper brushing of teeth.

Dr. Campbell tries to limit his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extraction for same; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth, as dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

NORTH COUNTY DEATHS

GWENNETH BOOKS

Private services were held Wednesday from Nauman and Lincoln Chapel by the Sea for Gwenneth Books, of 263 Arroyo Drive, Pacifica, who died Friday. Burial was in Holy Cross Cemetery.

A native of Canada, she resided in Pacifica about two years.

Survivors include a daughter, Christine Patterson, Pacifica; a brother, Richard Books, and a sister, Phylis Roberts, both of Fortuna.

FRED A. STEELE

Funeral services for Fred A. Steele, 21, 117 Linden Avenue, San Bruno, who died in an elevator accident Monday night while working in South San Francisco, will be held tomorrow at 1 p.m. at the Calvary Lutheran Church, San Bruno.

Survivors include his wife, Eliza; his father, Fred Steele, San Bruno; his mother, Mrs. Thomas Smith, San Bruno; two brothers, Randall Steele, San Mateo, and Melvin, San Bruno; and a sister, Linda, San Bruno.

Friends may call at Chapel of the Highlands, Millbrae, until 11 a.m. Thursday. Interment will be at Cypress Lawn Cemetery, Colma.

LOUISE C. MANDLER

Louise C. Mandler, 81, 125 Santa Inez Avenue, San Bruno, died Wednesday at her home, after an illness. She was a native of California, and a resident of this county 12 years.

Survivors include her son, Vernon L. Mandler Sr., San Anselmo, and six grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services are Friday at 11 a.m. at Chapel of the Highlands, Millbrae, with private inurnment at Mountain View Memorial Park, Oakland. Memorial contributions may be made to the Children's Hospital.

BERNICE SULLE

Bernice Sulle, 58, of South San Francisco died October 12 in San Francisco.

A native of Vermont, she had lived for many years in Brisbane.

Survivors include a son Joseph Sulle of San Francisco, Robert Knox of Vermont and a sister Nuwell Peryer of Vermont.

Funeral services were at 10 a.m. Friday from the Nauman and Lincoln mortuary.

Interment was at Holy Cross Cemetery.

AGNES A. SARGEE

Services were held last week at San Bruno Funeral Home for Mrs. Agnes A. Sargee, 43, of 338 Taylor Street, San Bruno, who died October 7 in San Mateo.

Requiem mass was celebrated at St. Bruno's Catholic Church, with burial in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

Mrs. Sargee was a native of Vietnam.

Survivors include her husband, Norbert, of Vietnam; daughter Zizinne, San Bruno; and a brother, Maurice Allux, France.

LORRAINE M. ARMSTRONG

Services will begin tomorrow at 9 a.m. from San Bruno Funeral Home Chapel, with a requiem mass at St. Bruno's Church at 9:30 The rosary will be recited tonight at 8 o'clock at the chapel. Interment will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

Supervisors Double Fee For CATV

Keeping pace with Daly City, Pacifica and Redwood City, the County Board of Supervisors has doubled its fee for CATV (Community Antenna Television) franchises in unincorporated areas.

The board voted to increase the fee from 2 to 4 per cent of gross revenues, excluding installation changes.

District Attorney Keith C. Sorenson said the new fee cannot be applied to existing franchise holders but will apply to any company or companies awarded the right to operate in the Broadmoor area adjoining Daly City.

Three companies have applied for franchises in Broadmoor and the supervisors have scheduled a public hearing for November 6. They are Western TV Cable Company, California Cable Communications Corporation, and Vista Grande Cablevision, which services both Daly City and Pacifica, where 4 per cent fees are in effect. Although the applications for the Broadmoor franchise were made while the 2 per cent fee was in effect, Sorenson said, the 4 per cent rate will apply by the time a contract is signed.

All other cities in the county that have awarded CATV franchises charge 2 per cent fees.

CHURCH TALK

Leo Williamson will speak at 11 a.m. on Sunday at the Peninsula Church of Christ (Christian) in San Bruno, Angus Avenue at Masson. Study and expression groups for all ages are held at 9:45 a.m. and 6:30 p.m.
